THE WEATHER.

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau,
Toledo, O., Aug. 4, 1892.

There is an area of high pressure covering the central portion of the country which will dominate the weather over the eastern half of the country during the next 36 hours.

The barometer is below the normal over the St. Lawrence and lower Saskatchewan valleys.

The thunder storm which passed over this stations last night moved eastward over Lake Erie and was entirely local. It caused rains at all stations on the lake, Toledo having .51 inches; Sandusky, 1.30; Detroit, .30; Cleveland, .50; Erie, .14, and Buffalo, .08.

Light rains were reported from Montana, northern Minnesota and along the St. Lawrence valley.

The weather is generally fair in all sections except in Montana and the extreme northeastern portion of the country, where it is cloudy and rainy.

The temperature has fallen slightly over the lake region, risen over the west and northwest and on the middle Atlantic coast, and remained about stationary elsewhere.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity during the next 36 hours—Fair, slightly rising temperature.

E. A. HANNER, Observer.

Forecast for Ohio, Indiana and Illinois—Fair; warmer in northern portions Friday morning; variable winds, becoming southerly.

For Michigan and Wisconsin—Fair; warmer; southerly winds.

FRICK ARRESTED,

And Released on a Ten Thousand Dollar Bond.

Potter, Dovey and McConnell Also Liberated.

Mellon Bros., Bankers, Sign the Bail Documents.

The Superintendent Was Not Locked Up.

Late News Gossip from Both Pittsburg and Homestead Concerning the War for Wages.

Pittsburg, Aug. 4.—Supt. John A. Potter, of the Homestead mill, and his two assistants, James Dovey and Nevin McConnell, charged by Hugh Ross, for the strikers, with murder, were released on $10,000 bail each in a brief hearing before Judge Ewing this morning.

Mr. Potter surrendered himself to the court the moment it was opened. He entered, accompanied by his attorneys Knox and Reed, and safely passed constables waiting for him at the door.

Mr. Potter spent the night pleasantly with friends in the East End.

Alderman King lugged his docket into court on the order from Judge Ewing and Mr. Potter waived a hearing.

McConnell and Dovey were brought from jail and the three placed in the prisoner's box, viewed by nearly five hundred persons, many of whom were workmen.

On the formal application for bail, District Attorney Burleigh addressed the court: "I am required to say, your honor, the prosecution will make no attempt to prevent the release on bail of these men."

"I am satisfied," the court replied.

Messrs. A. W. and R. B. Mellon, bankers, signed the bonds. Judge Ewing at first objected to these men signing all the bonds, but he said he would accept their personal bond for forty times the amount without hesitation.

On the application of Lawyer Knox, the court instructed that Mr. Frick be admitted to $10,000 bail, by the officer going to his house to secure his signature. The Mellons also signed this bond.

ADDITIONAL TROUBLE.

Workingmen Become Boisterous on Learning of the Arrests.

Homestead, Pa., Aug. 4.—The arrests of Yardmaster James Dovey and Superintendent of operations, hearth department, No. 2, McConnell, on a charge of murder, were attended by turbulent scenes necessitating interference of the militia and the additional arrest of a striker.

It was 2 o'clock when Constables Amos Stewart and Ginher reached Homestead with four warrants, two for the above Carnegie officials, and the other for Superintendent John O. Potter and George A. Correy.

The last named gentleman had gone to Pittsburg by the time the constables arrived.

Messrs. Dovey and McConnell, however, were found at the mill and were taken to their residences where they donned street suits.

In the meantime rumors of the prospective arrests spread through the town, and hundreds of locked-out and striking mill men gathered at different points.

A crowd of 200 men were gathered at the railroad station when the constables arrived with their prisoners. The appearance of constables and prisoners was met with an exultant cry from the excited crowd. The prisoners were hurried into the car.

A patrol of militia strove to keep back the men, and were aided by a few deputy sheriffs. The train was 20 minutes late, and every minute the crowd increased, while muttered threats, especially directed against Dovey, were plainly heard.

As the time passed the crowd became more turbulent, and word was hastily sent to Provost Marshal Lieut.-Col. Mechling. He dispatched at once Major Crawford with a company of the Fifteenth regiment to the station. These arrived just as the patrol was fixing bayonts to repulse the crowd.

The soldiers marched company front, pushing back the crowd, which retired in a surly way. One striker named Thomas Bowen became boisterous and yelled: "Three cheers for Dovey; damn him!"

Before the crowd could give them, Maj. Crawford signed two soldiers, who hastily seized Bowen. He had a penknife in his hand at the time. He was hustled into the station and placed in charge of two deputies. This stern measure quelled the hostile demonstration.

On the arrival of the train Messrs. Dovey and McConnell with Bowen were put on it, and in addition to constables and sheriffs a detail of soldiers was also put on to protect the mill bosses.

At City Farm and Homestead stations companies of militia were drawn up in line as the train passed and kept the crowd back. At the sight of the prisoners, however, the crowds cheered lustily. Bowen, the striker who was arrested, will be charged with unlawful assemblage, disorderly conduct, and probably with inciting to riot.

The news that all the Carnegie officers were admitted to bail at once is a great disappointment to the people here, who hoped that they would be kept in jail for a night at least.

The turbulent demonstration of the afternoon has convinced Gen. Wylie that it would be unwise to remove the militia from Homestead for the present.

WEAR THE SAME BADGE.

New Employes at Homestead Belong to a Secret Society.

Homestead, Pa., Aug. 4.—It is now probable that as a result of the wage conflict in Homestead a secret society will be involved. Complaint has been made to the Junior Order of American Mechanics' council that in the mill are a large number of men wearing badges of the order and that in taking the places of locked-out members of the order they are violating their oaths and should be expelled.

The officers of the local council have begun an investigation and if the reports prove true will appeal to the state councillor.

A wild story has been in circulation here for two days which in effect is that a secret emissary of the Clan-na-Gael has been here trying to induce the naturalized Irishmen here to join the Clan-na-Gael.

The member ran against several workmen who did not take any kindlier to him than to the anarchists who came here and as a result he was unceremoniously hustled out of town. It is possible though that he did enlist a few persons before he left and these will continue proselyting.

The immediate effects of the mass meetings here have been materially to stiffen the courage of the locked-out men and the strikers. Manager Potter claimed that 49 new men went to work in two days and that the rank and file of the mechanical department were rapidly weakening. This morning the company only claims three additional applications and the men are not disposed to concede that many. If in fact the energies of a number of day laborers who were wavering yesterday is devoted to-day toward those who have gone in to come out and many strategems are laid to get hold of the men. The Edna has been plowing the shore all morning trying to find a Homestead man near the landing. The gates are besieged and letters containing personal appeals sent in to the men.

"We have completely checked all feeling of doubt," remarked a member of the advisory committee this morning. "Not only are the men firmer than they have been for a week, but they will certainly reclaim every Homestead steel worker who has weakened. This is our week. We have learned that yesterday seven plates were rolled and not a single one but was condemned. That convinces us that our position has become almost impregnable and we can afford to wait until Mr. Carnegie tires of having his money thrown away."

ARRESTS DISCUSSED.

The Officers Take the New Turn of Affairs Very Coolly.

Pittsburg, Aug. 4.—The officials of the Carnegie Steel company take the matter of their positions as defendants on the charge of murder very coolly.

Concerning the action, Mr. Lovejoy said: "The company has not and will not disturb itself over these suits. We agree with Judge Ewing that there is very little standing for the plaintiffs in this case. When it is alleged we are arbitrary in our refusal to arbitrate with the workmen, it must be remembered that they have conceded us everything except the right to make individual contracts. One of our reasons for preferring to make contracts with each man rather than with an irresponsible committee, is that it is a matter of protection to ourselves. We think it our right to make our contracts in our own way.

"The bringing of these suits will not change our policy in the least. Our course is fixed and unalterable."

The Carnegie company officials plainly indicate that they consider their arrest as the consummation of a threat that they would be arrested unless they agreed to arbitrate.

"I think it a joke," laughingly remarked a prominent iron manufacturer, "and a move out of which the Homestead men will reap absolutely no benefit whatever. It will help their own cause in no way and the trend of affairs, which is far more to them than murder trials at present, will not be changed."

One of the leading Amalgamated association men of Homestead said: "The officials are undoubtedly responsible for the murders committed at Homestead on July 6. Those fellows will try by one way or another to dodge and escape the law and may succeed in doing so by means of the wealth that backs them. I don't think that if one of them were to shoot one of us fellows he would be punished, for they have influence and money, and that seems to count for everything."

"If they break up organized labor the men will secretly combine to form revolutionary societies, which will be bad for this country. It is bad policy to break up the Amalgamated association, for it is a safe organization of labor and very conservative. I am in hearty favor of our lodges voting that a board of arbitration be asked for, to settle the Pittsburg troubles. We asked it in Homestead, and why not agree to it in Pittsburg? It will be for the best, but I cannot say what will be done."

THE MEN ARE HAPPY.

Homestead, Aug. 4.—There was great rejoicing among the locked-out workmen when they learned that informations had been made against the officials of the Carnegie company. This satisfaction was intensified by the knowledge that Hugh Ross had attached his signature to the papers which are hoped to set the wheels of justice in motion.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

State Convention in Session in Lincoln.

A Full State Ticket to be Nominated.

The Democratic Campaign Committee Commences Business in New York City.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 4.—The republican state convention was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning by Chairman S. D. Mercer, of the state central committee. The delegates proceeded to work without delay, but owing to the fact that there are entries almost without number in the gubernatorial and other races, the nominations may not be reached until to-morrow. After effecting a temporary organization, and appointing committees on credentials and resolutions, an adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock.

A great deal of talking was done during the noon hour, but the fight had not perceptibly narrowed down when the convention reassembled, and an additional source of delay arose from the unexpected number of contests that came before the committee on credentials.

A full state ticket is to be nominated, including governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, superintendent of public instruction, attorney general, commissioner of public buildings and eight presidential electors. The republicans are having rather up-hill work in Nebraska.

The democrats have made lots of capital out of what they call Thayer's usurpation, and the republicans have done more or less fighting among themselves. Joe Bartley who is working for the nomination for state treasurer, not long ago accused Tom Benton, who is engineering George Bowerman's fight for the auditorship, of being responsible for the disrepute into which the republican party has fallen with the farmers of Nebraska.

Messrs. Majors, Bartley and Bowerman have set their caps for the offices of governor, treasurer and auditor, respectively, but in view of the fact that considerable animosity has existed between them in the past, the combination is not regarded as very strong, and each is likely to shift for himself after the balloting begins. H. C. Worthem, of Pawnee, is out for the state treasurership, and Eugene Moore, of Norfolk, would like the nomination for auditor. The opposition of these two to the trio first named naturally throws them together, and it is thought that with a good man for governor they could run things to suit themselves.

The present commissioners, Hastings, Allen, Goudy and Humphrey, will probably be renominated. The fight is still further complicated by Crountse's candidacy for the governorship, and by several embryo booms ready to be sprung on the convention at an opportune moment.

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.

A General Plan of Action Being Mapped Out.

New York, Aug. 4.—The national democratic campaign committee is holding a secret session to-day at the new headquarters at 139 Fifth avenue. The committee consists of Calvin S. Brice, Ohio; A. P. Gorman, Maryland; B. B. Smalley, Vermont; M. W. Ransom, North Carolina; B. T. Cable, Illinois; E. C. Wall, Wisconsin; Josiah Quincey, Massachusetts, and W. F. Harrity, of Pennsylvania. The first business to be disposed of is the election of a chairman, and this office will probably go to Senator Brice, although there is a possibility that Gov. Campbell may be induced to serve. The general plan of the campaign will be blocked out at to-day's meeting, and the details filled in at a meeting to be held in the near future.

KENTUCKY DAY.

Adlai E. Stevenson Takes Part in the Ceremonies.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 4.—Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson arrived in this city this morning to participate in the dedication ceremonies of the new Watterson club building. Elaborate preparations have been made for the occasion, and a large number of prominent Kentuckians are in the city by special invitation of the club.

Gov. Brown, together with many prominent state officials and nearly all of the members of the state legislature, will participate in the ceremonies. Invitations have been extended to all living ex-governors and lieutenant-governors. Mr. Stevenson will deliver the principle address of the day.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Thomas E. Davis Nominated for Governor.

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 4.—At the afternoon session of the republican state convention Secretary of War Stephen B. Elkins was made permanent chairman and addressed the convention for over an hour, dwelling on state and national issues, particularly the tariff issue, and praising the administration of President Harrison.

B. M. Jones, of Monongahela, was made permanent secretary, and after the usual committees had reported the report of the committee on resolutions was read and adopted.

The platform indorses Harrison and Reid, the republican national platform, especially protection, and favors that policy that protects the laborer, believes the McKinley act one of the best ever passed by an American congress, believes in a duty on foreign products and on foreign producers, and on the foreign laborers brought to this country, rejoices that the tariff is not involved in the Homestead affair, opposes such invasions by Pinkertons, assures the people that there will be no deputy marshals at the polls in West Virginia this year, denounces the democrats for breaking their promises, extravagance, particularly in public printing, the increase of office-holders, and the increase of taxes, and for keeping back the progress of the state. It denounces the gerrymander of the state and the act of the legislature in refusing to seat Gen. Goff, and calls on the people to show their disapproval of this outrage at the polls.

After the adoption of the platform resolutions, nominations for governor were begun. An effort was made to nominate Elkins by acclamation, but he would not entertain the motion. An effort was made to nominate Atkinson, but he declined, and nominated Thomas E. Davis. An hour and a half were spent in nominating speeches. Atkinson, Duval, Menager, Morris, Davis, and Cooper being nominated, when an obscure little man from Kanawha named Smith got up and said Elkins was the only man who could unite the party. Then came the outburst. Delegates rose and waved hats and handkerchiefs, the band played, and cheer after cheer rent the air. After five or six minutes Atkinson came out and said Mr. Elkins wanted a couple of hours to consider the matter in hand, and a recess was taken till 7 o'clock.

The magnificent demonstration given to Secretary Elkins, which was only broken up by a temporary adjournment, showed the high estimation in which he is held by the republicans of West Virginia, and by this demonstration may be estimated the feeling of disappointment that swept over the convention when the secretary called the meeting to order and announced that it would be impossible for him to accept the nomination.

The call of the counties was then continued and by the end of the roll George W. Atkinson, of Ohio county; Thomas E. Davis, of Taylor; P. W. Morris, of Ritchie; J. B. Menager, of Mason; I. H. Duvall, of Brooke; John Cooper, of Mercer, and T. P. Jacob, of Wetzel, were placed in nomination. The last three were withdrawn and the first ballot begun. Before it was concluded all the other candidates withdrew in favor of Davis, who was nominated by acclamation. Davis is a wealthy business man, a Grafton banker, and state senator from his district.

For auditor, J. S. Hyer, of Braxton; C. W. Hall, of Kanawha; C. W. Senseny, of Ohio; I. W. Duval, of Brooke, and S. W. Willey, of Summers, were named. Hyer was slightly ahead on the first ballot, when Willey was withdrawn in favor of Hyer, and Senseny and Hall for Duval. After an hour spent in changing votes the result was announced as follows: Hyer 413, Duval 347. Hyer was declared the nominee at 12:15 o'clock, when the convention adjourned till 9 a. m., to-day.

WORKING FOR HARMONY.

Republicans Trying to Get Down to a Working Basis.

New York, Aug. 4.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the executive committee of the Republican League of the state of New York was held here yesterday afternoon. It was announced that Mr. Whitelaw Reid was in the hotel and a committe was appointed to invite and escort Mr. Reid to the meeting. Upon his entrance Mr. Reid was warmly greeted. The vice presidential candidate spoke of the work which the league could accomplish in the campaign, through its organization, and said that the utmost harmony prevailed between the state committe and the league.

Chairman Thomas H. Carter, of the republican national committee, also addressed the league delegates. Mr. Carter urged that the league set to work at once to organize clubs in all localities where they do not now exist. Senator Hiscock also addressed the meeting and said that the republicans were united and sure of success. When the talking was over, Colonel McAlvin was re-elected prsident of the executive committee and Job E. Hedges, secretary.

Reports were received from committeemen in various sections of the state, and while it was left to particular localities to organize as they might deem best, it was the sense of the meeting that in counties where there were ten or more clubs a central body be formed to be known as the county league, composed of delegates from the various clubs.

At the headquarters of the republican national committee a conference was held in the afternoon between Chairman Carter, Whitelaw Reid, J. Sloat Fassett, Senator Hiscock, W. C. Southerland, of Rochester, and Cornelius N. Bliss. It was rumored about headquarters that Mr. Fassett had been present on behalf of Mr. Platt, and that all grievances had been adjusted, but none of the gentlemen who were at the conference would speak a word of the proceedings.

RIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER.

Minnesota Democrats Start Out in a Vigorous Manner.

Minneapolis, Aug. 4.—At the afternoon session of the democratic state convention the temporary organization was made permanent.

After a brief struggle it was decided to proceed to the nomination of a candidate for governor.

Judge Flandreau, of St. Paul, presented the name of Daniel W. Lawler, of Ramsey county, as a candidate for the nomination for governor.

Mayor Winston, of Minneapolis, moved that Lawler be nominated by acclamation by a rising vote and the motion carried with a roar of cheers.

Mr. Lawler was brought to the platform and returned thanks for the nomination in an eloquent speech.

The platform denounces the protective tariff and calls attention to the Homestead affair, where the militia of the state is keeping peace in a quarrel between the real and supposed beneficiaries of protection, denounces the "wheat combine," and demands a free and open market at every railroad station. An income tax is favored and a uniform system of taxation demanded. An amendment to the Federal constitution requiring the election of president, vice president and senators by direct vote of the people occupies a prominent part in the resolutions, as does one favoring the extension of the presidential term to six years and making the president ineligible for re-election. The contract system at the state prison is condemned.

Upon reassembling at the evening session, the convention proceeded to fill the other places on the ticket. Harry Hawkins, of Carlton county, was nominated for lieutenant-governor by acclamation. For secretary of state, Peter Nelson, of Goodgue county, and H. B. Martin, of Minneapolis, who received the nomination on the people's party ticket, were placed in nomination. Nelson was nominated by a large majority.

A New Convention Called.

St. Louis, Aug. 4.—The democratic state committee has acted on the split in the Ninth congressional district, where nominations were made, viz.: J. B. Clark and R. H. Norton, the present incumbent. After hearing both sides the committee has decided that new primaries shall be held in the Ninth district, and a new convention will meet at St. Charles, August 30.

The Results in Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 4.—The new legislature of Alabama is overwhelmingly straight democratic. In the senate 22 of 33 are supporters of Gov. Jones and the regular state ticket and in the house 61 out of 100 members are of the same faith. Returns from all but ten counties show that Gov. Jones has a safe majority of 25,000. The other counties will not materially change the result.

VAN WYCK NOMINATED.

He Will Lead the Independents in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 4.—C. H. Van Wyck, United States senator, was nominated for governor by the Nebraska state independent convention at Kearney, at 4 o'clock this morning. He received 552 votes to 147 for ex-Attorney General Lees, and his nomination was made practically unanimous.

The platform advises the adoption of Iowa railway freight rates; opposes the restoration of the state sugar bounty; demands legislation to make any money authorized by the United States legal tender for any obligation; demands the submission of constitutional amendment providing for lending state school funds as first mortgages at not over five per cent; denounces the use of Pinkerton and like armed force to intimidate organized labor; favors legislation requiring arbitration of labor troubles; demands the election of president, vice president and senators by direct vote; favors equal pay for men and women, and denounces the convict labor system of Nebraska.

Resolutions were adopted opposing further appropriations by the state for the world's fair, and condemning the fair managers for refusing to recognize the just claim of labor, also a resolution to abolish the state militia.

After Van Wyck's nomination the following were nominated: Lieutenant-governor, C. H. Schrader; auditor, Logan McReynolds; secretary of state, J. M. Easterling; presidential electors at large, E. E. Link and T. H. Tibbles.

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.

Suicide of a Wealthy and Eccentric Miser at Dayton.

Dayton, O., Aug. 4.—Frederick Kayser, an aged, eccentric, and wealthy miser, as the result of a quarrel with his daughter, committed suicide by hanging.

In addition to stocks and bonds he owns business and farm property here valued at $250,000 and has a large estate in Sweden left to him by his parents.

For the past 25 years his daily avocation has been the collection of garbage and slops, which he fed to stock on his farm.

Despite his wealth he dressed in rags and looked and acted the part of a distressed mendicant.

His only daughter, a cultured girl, returned recently from a five years' absence in Sweden, where she was studying music. Her importunities in an effort to induce her father to clean up and discontinue his slop gathering incensed the old man to the point that he sought peace and happiness by dangling from a rope in an outhouse.

His wealth, estimated at $500,000, will go to his daughter and her imbecile brother.

SOME PROGRESS MADE.

The World's Fair Item to Stand on Its Merits.

A Vote to be Taken on it on Friday.

Long Debate in the Lower House of Congress—Proceedings in the Senate.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Mr. Catchings, dem., Miss., from the committee on rules, reported a resolution to the house making this suspension day, which was adopted.

Mr. Holman, dem., Ind., then submitted a resolution extending the appropriations under the sundry civil bill until August 10, which was agreed to.

Mr. Holman offered a resolution that the house should reconsider the vote by which it decided to recede from its disagreement to the senate amendments in the sundry civil bill; insist upon a further disagreement and send it to conference again. He moved its passage.

This proposition was debated by Mr. Bingham, rep., of Pennsylvania, who said that personally he had no information about the action of the advisory committee except that obtained from the public press. There was an agreement on the republican side of the house that the appropriations should be extended for six days. All preliminary proceedings had been concurred in by the republicans in order that the sundry civil bill should go to conference. He thought the house was entitled to some explanation of the agreement and the plan proposed.

Mr. Reilly, dem., of Pennsylvania, then read the proposition and said that in the interest of public business the advisory committee had submitted the agreement as the best solution possible under the circumstances.

He hoped there would be no obstruction to the proposition and said that if there was he had no doubt that the necessary closure rule could be obtained from the committee on rules to compel a vote. There had not been a disseting voice in the caucus of 120 democratic members. The agreement was to strike the $5,000,000 amendment from the Sunday bill and appropriate $2,500,000 instead as a gift.

Mr. McMillin, dem., of Tennessee, said the terms of the agreement were well understood and no one had a right to speak for the committee on rules. Future action could not be discounted.

Mr. Dingley, rep., of Maine, then desired to know how a vote was to be had and Mr. Dockery, sotto voice, said they would cross that bridge when they came to it.

Mr. Henderson, rep., of Illinois, could see nothing ahead but a trap. It reminded him of the spider and the fly. (Laughter).

Mr. Williams, dem., of Illinois, said that a number of memebrs had voted for the world's fair appropriation with assurances which were satisfactory that the Durborrow bill would be brought to a final vote. Under these circumstances he would vote to send the sundry civil bill to conference.

Mr. Oates, (dem.), of Alabama, said the action of the democratic caucus did not bind any one's vote, but he thought that it did imply that no filibustering should be indulged in.

Mr. McMillin, (dem.), of Tennessee, said there was no agreement which negatived the idea that the Durborrow bill could be amended, altered or treated in the same way as any other bill.

Mr. Henderson, of Iowa, said he understood the situation to be that the world's fair advocates had such assurances as justified them in bringing in this method with the hope of carrying the $2,500,000 gift outright.

Mr. Dingley, who controlled the time for the republicans, said there was no disposition to obstruct or interfere on that side. They had not been a party to any deal. Without obstruction this opposition would have been made. His side washed its hands of all responsibility. They were opposed to any proposition which endangers assistance to the world's fair.

The majority in control of the house had selected its method of procedure and a small minority had filibustered and prevented the majority from making an appropriation favored by it.

The majority had met the issue thus presented, instead of bringing in a rule which would enable the majority to express its will. The caucus had selected its course of action. His side would not interpose any obstruction calculated to prevent the carrying out of the plan proposed. Whatever might be the result, the responsibility must rest with the majority. He closed by saying "accept it and go home."

Mr. Holman moved the passage of the resolution and it was passed, yeas 141, nays 50.

The speaker appointed Messrs. Holman, Sayers and Bingham as the conferees.

Mr. Rielly then offered a resolution and asked its passage, that the house should proceed to consider the substitute for the Durborrow bill, appropriating $2,500,000 at once, and to vote upon it to-morrow at 1 o'clock, no intervening motion to be entertained until the bill shall have been fully and finally disposed of.

A second on this resolution was ordered 163 to 5.

Mr. Bailey, of Texas, opposed the resolution and said he supposed it was useless to enter his protest, but he was opposed to lending any aid to this merciless corporation. He was in a hopeless minority and yet it was their duty to oppose this high-handed and unprecedented proceeding.

The resolution violated the agreement of the democratic caucus because nowhere was it proposed to force the democrats to vote for a cloture rule. There were men in the caucus who would have refused to be bound by the resolution.

He begged the democrats to reflect upon the attitude in which they placed themselves. The democratic party was to disgrace itself. (Applause by the republicans.)

Mr. Bailey and the democratic party had done many bad things but its record was not as bad as the republican party. (Laughter on democratic side). This resolution bound the democratic party hand and foot, and delivered it over to a merciless and soulless corporation. To appropriate this money was legitimate burglary.

Mr. Williams, dem., of Illinois, said that in order to get at the matter she advisory committee had agreed to take the fair item from the appropriation bill and come to a vote on a separate bill. Whatever the decision of the house on the Durborrow bill, he (Williams) would stand ready to keep the appropriation out of any appropriation bill.

Mr. Culberson, (dem.), of Texas, a member of the high joint committee, as it had been called by Mr. Kilgore, said that in the committee the friends of the world's fair had a decided advantage. Both houses had agreed to the opposition. The opponents resisted the action of the house by dilatory proceedings. The friends of the opposition yielded up their advantage on the proposition in order that the house might vindicate itself and its rules by striking this extraneous item from the appropriation bill.

This was a large concession for the majority which had fastened the amendment on the bill. In consideration of this the opponents agreed that we should consider the Durborrow bill and come to a vote on it.

The resolution of Mr. Reilly to vote on the Durborrow substitute appropriating $2,500,000 to-morrow at 1 o'clock was passed by a vote of 187 to 7.

In the Senate.

Washington, Aug. 4.—In the senate today the first business (13 republicans and 12 democrats being present and making little over half a quorum), was to act on the house resolution extending appropriations to August 10. Mr. Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, asked unanimous consent that the senate concur in this extension. The resolution was adopted and recess taken until 1:30 p. m.

At 1:35 the chief clerk of the house appeared in the senate and announced the house disagreement to the senate amendments to the sundry civil bill and the signature of the speaker to the resolution continuing appropriations till the 10th inst. The latter was promptly signed by the vice president and sent to the white house.

On motion of Mr. Allison the senate then adjourned until 2 o'clock to-morrow.

KIDNAPED BY A TRAMP.

The Story of Two Boys Who Mysteriously Disappeared from Canton.

Canton, O., Aug. 4.—Edwin Abt, the 13-year old boy of L. Abt, a local merchant, who left on Friday last, has returned with his companion, Ernie Folsom. They tell of an exciting experience.

While picking berries west of town they were kidnaped by a tramp and forced into a freight car. Here they were compelled to remain, although hungry and poorly fed, until Fort Wayne was reached.

Managing to elude their captors here, they escaped, but being without money or friends they did not know what to do. They were afraid to report to the police for fear of arrest. Finally they boarded a freight train, hoping it was coming to Canton, but instead it was on another road and took them still farther into Indiana. When they discovered their mistake they alighted and, inquiring the way, got here as best they could on freight trains.

The object of the tramps in kidnaping them is unknown, unless it was to hold them for ransom.

House of Commons Again in Session.

Speaker Peel Unanimously Re-elected.

Burns, the Labor Leader, Greeted With Mingled Cheers and Groans by the People.

London, Aug. 4.—The new parliament met this afternoon.

Michael Davitt secured the seat formerly occupied by Parnell.

The conservatives talk of questioning his right to any seat, on the ground of his record as a convict.

A crowd at Carlton Terrace watched Mr. Gladstone start for the house of commons and greeted his appearance with roars of applause.

Mr. Balfour, the government leader, also received an ovation. John Burns, the labor leader, had a mingled reception of cheers and groans.

At the appointed hour the commons were summoned to the house of lords to listen to the royal commission summoning parliament to meet.

After the return to the house of commons Sir Matthew Ridley, conservative, moved, and Mr. Gladstone seconded, the re-election of Speaker Peel.

Mr. Peel was unanimously re-elected, and the house adjourned.

THE STORM.

Lightning Played Havoc with Numerous Buildings.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 4.—The worst hail storm that ever occurred in this section came down upon Kalamazoo and the surrounding country about 3 o'clock yesterday, causing great damage. The amount of damage done in the city from window lights broken, is estimated at from $5,000 to $10,000.

With the hail came a terrific wind storm which leveled hundreds of shade trees in the city. In the country the damage was almost complete to what crops there had remained standing. Some estimate the loss to crops and fruit at $50,000.

Lightning Damage.

Fremont, O., Aug. 4.—(Special)—This city was visited by a heavy electrical storm last night and much damage was done. The residence of Judge Finefrock was struck by lightning and considerable damage done.

At Norwalk.

Norwalk, O., Aug. 4.—(Special)—A barn belonging to Mrs. Louise Morehouse, on Milan street, this city, was struck by lightning last night at 11 o'clock and the entire contents destroyed, including a horse, carriages and hay, belonging to Harry Bishop. The storm was one of the most severe of the season.

At Bellevue.

Bellevue, O., Aug. 4.—Lightning struck in the N. W. O. N. Gas. Co.'s office, located in Hotel Bourdette block, at 10:30 o'clock last night, setting fire to the building. About $200 in damages was done before it could be extinguished. Fully insured.

IRON HALL.

Somerby Defeated for Re-Election in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Aug. 4.—The Iron Hall Building company had its regular meeting at 1317 Arch street, this city, last night, and elected officers for the ensuing year.

The meeting was largely attended and lasted until long after midnight. There was some close voting, which resulted in the defeat of Freeman D. Somerby for re-election, as president, although he was re-elected a trustee.

There were thirty candidates of whom fifteen were elected. A number of women stockholders attended, but the two women candidates for trustees were defeated by men.

A. R. Elasser was elected president and Col. H. G. Williams was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Sixteen trustees were elected.

NO CANALS ON MARS.

Astronomer Mains Tells What He Saw Through His Glass.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Henry C. Maine, the well-known astronomer, who has been making close observations of Mars, says:

"Mars presented no new features at midnight. The workings were comparatively faint because of intense illumination of the disk. The snow cap is now small. The western limb from the snow-cap northward seems to be more highly illuminated than the eastern. The light of the western limb appeared to be nearly white, but not so white as hat reflected by the snowcap. In the southern hemisphere there was quite a distinct greenish gray streak about 40 degrees from the pole.

NOT LONG AT LIBERTY.

Columbus, O., Aug. 4.—Max Gehr, who was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment from Ashtabula for burglary, was released to-day, but was immediately arrested on a requisition from the governor of Pennsylvania. The charge is that he committed a burglary in Meadville. Gehr proposes to fight the case.

PROHIBS.

Fostoria, Aug. 4—(Special)—M. B. Chase, of Marion, for congress, and G. W. Dunn, of Tiffin, presidential elector, were the nominations of the Thirteenth district prohibition convention.

On the Unsuspecting Valley Residents.

Three Persons Killed and a Number Injured.

The Whole Work of Destruction Did Not Last Over Ten Minutes—Four Houses Carried Away—Others Demolished.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 4.—Three persons were killed and seven badly injured by a singular accident on the West Side at 10 o'clock last night. So far as known the list of killed is as follows:

Mrs. AUGUST ADAMS.

Mrs. J. HORN.

WILLIAM KRIEGER.

Those wounded fatally are:

Philip Stoehr and 5-year-old son; August Adams; Frederick Krieger; Paul Kreuk; Henry Ludwig; John Willrich.

A torrent of water, sweeping everything before it with resistless force, poured over the brow of the lower bluff and down upon the level of the Kansas City railroad tracks. Four houses were carried away and five others dismantled and wrecked.

The accident was the result of the late cloudburst. Up on the hillside above Page street was a deep gully, the natural outlet of the water from the country above. A year ago Page street had been filled up across this gully, leavng a small culvert to carry off the ordinary water.

On Monday there appeared a crack on on the lower side of the fill, but there was no thought of immediate danger. Suddenly last night the fill let go and with a mighty rush the vast body of water swept down upon the lowland below.

In 10 minutes the whole thing was over and the work of rescue began. Men, women and children were fished out of the debris and wrecks extending nearly half a mile.

It is possible that the extent of the loss of life may be increased as the work of recovery proceeds.

CHAT FROM COLUMBUS.

Chaplain at the Penitentiary Resigns.

Rev. J. M. Triffett Writes a Letter to the Board of Managers—General News.

Columbus, Aug. 4.—Rev. J. M. Triffett, chaplain of the Ohio penitentiary, has resigned. A neighbor of the minister brought charges of immorality against him and the reverend gentleman sent the following letter to the board of managers:

To the Board of Managers, Ohio Penitentiary:

"Inasmuch as serious charges have been presented against me in the papers of this present date, and while not desiring in any sense to admit the truthfulness of the charges, and yet in the meantime knowing that my usefulness must be impaired before a class of men that I had sincerely hoped to help, I heartily concur in the belief of the board that my resignation would be for the best interests of the institution. I therefore tender the same, wishing the triumph of truth and blessings upon all. J. M. Triffett."

An attache of the prison says that there have been faint rumblings of these charges before, while others manifest strong belief in the chaplain's innocence. Chaplain Triffett says that he will return to his old home and live down the accusation. He has held charges for years at Lodi and other places in Medina county with the Congregationalists. His services have been highly commendable. It may be added also that there should be some allowance made that the story is by a convict's wife and a common character, whose direct purpose may possibly be blackmail.

The place of Chaplain Triffett will probably be filled by Rev. Dudley, a Methodist minister of Clermont county, now preaching in Green county. He is a graduate of Delaware and an exemplary young man of 27 years. He was a prominent candidate for the office of chaplain last spring, when, at the last moment, Speaker Laylin, of Huron, secured the appointment of his friend, Rev. Triffett.

Ohio's Employment Agencies.

H. L. Gray, chief clerk of the Missouri labor bureau, is here on business of his office. In answer to queries Mr. Gray said: "Ohio is the only state in the union which has established free employment agencies, and my mission here is to gain all the information possible with reference to the working of the system. If I find that it is a good thing, and beneficial to the working classes, our bureau will recommend its adoption in Missouri. I came here prepared to visit Cincinnati, Dayton, Toledo and Cleveland, in addition to Columbus, in order to get a full and complete understanding of the question, but I now think I can get all the information I desire from Labor Commissioner Lewis and Mr. Cal C. Johnson, of the Columbus free employment agency."

Charges Against a Benefit Association.

State Commissioner W. H. Kinder has been engaged all day in an informal hearing of charges recently filed by L. S. Sparks, of Cincinnati, against the Pioneer Mutual Sick Benefit and Accident association. Sparks was formerly an agent, but has been discharged. The company is an assessment concern, and Sparks charges that it has been doing business on the cash plan, that it took risks without medical examination of its subjects, that while only authorized to do business in Ohio, it actually did business in Indiana, Illinois, New York, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and California, and also that it did not require its agents to give bond, as required by law. The company in turn charges that Sparks was a bad employe and was discharged, and that when he was employed he was advanced $300 for his expenses. The hearing was informal, and it is believed it will result in the appointment of an agent to make an examination of the grounds of the charges made by Sparks.

Had a Plate in His Skull.

A VETO.

Ex-President Cleveland Writes on One of His Official Acts.

Fort Dodge, Ia., Aug. 4.—John F. Duncomb, who nominated Governor Boise at Chicago, wrote to Mr. Cleveland in relation to his veto to what was known as the Des Moines river land settlers' bill and has received the following reply:

Gray Gables,
Buzzard's Bay, Mass., July 26.

The Hon. John F. Duncomb.

"My Dear Sir:—Your letter of July 13 is at hand, and I thank you for the friendly sentiments which it contains. I remember very well the perplexities involved in my action upon the Des Moines river land grant. My memory is entirely clear upon two points which largely entered into my consideration. After reading the decisions of the courts upon the questions involved in the bill which was brought for my action, it was entirely clear that the only result of the legislation would be to further involve the unfortunate settlers in litigation and further load them with expense to no purpose. Subsequent events seem to prove that I was right in this. Another thought which was firmly in my mind, and which was distinctly and emphatically declared in my veto was to the effect that if any settler had been induced to go upon the lands and expend money in improvements in the faith of some ruling of the land department, that such settler should be fairly and justly remunerated for his outlay. I should have been glad at any time to have relieved such settlers if it had been possible to do so, and no one can accuse me of acting in the matter in any other spirit than that of extreme kindness and tenderness toward those who had been injured by the vacillation of government officials. This matter can be made so plain by reference to the laws and to my veto and the judicial decisions bearing upon the question that I do not see how it is possible for any person to misrepresent or misunderstand the true condition. Very truly yours,

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

SHOULD RESIGN.

Proper Action for the National World's Fair Commission.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 4.—The world's fair commissioner, E. B. Martindale, of Indianapolis, is of the opinion that should congress not make an appropriation for the fair the national commission should resign.

He takes a very gloomy view of the outlook for the fair, and has serious question of its future. When asked what he thought would be the outcome in case congress did not pass the appropriation, he replied:

"My idea is that the best thing the members of the national commission can do is to resign. I can't see what else there is for them to do. They ought to step down and out and allow the directors at Chicago to run the fair. If the government is not to give the fair support there is no reason why the national commission should have a voice in its management."

HAD A CAN OF POWDER.

Narrow Escape of a Chicago Broker.

Ten Pounds of the Explosive Ready for Use.

A Woman Frightened Away Before She Had Time to Execute Her Design.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—An attempt was made last night to blow up the residence of Charles D. Irwin, a wealthy board of trade operator, at 2,300 Calumet avenue, and the police are searching high and low for the would be assassin, who is a woman.

The attempt was made a few minutes after 9 o'clock and would probably have been successful had not persons passing frightened the woman, who left a large can filled with a high explosive and ran toward the lake.

The can was discovered a few minutes later, but the finders were afraid to touch it and called Mr. Irwin out.

He picked up the can and on examining its contents discovered that it was more than half filled with giant powder. In all there was about 10 pounds of the deadly explosive. The amount was sufficient, if exploded, to have blown the building to atoms and to have set fire to the debris.

Mr. Irwin said last night: "I have not the slightest idea who the woman was and cannot imagine why anybody should cherish any ill feeling against me. My firm has no dealings with women, so, whatever motive the woman had it could not be one of revenge for unfortunate investments. I cannot believe that the woman is anything but a crank. The can and its contents are in possession of the police and I am not in the least worried about my safety."

WILL BE A STRIKE.

The Knights Templar Will be Delayed.

Operators on the Union Pacific to Leave Their Keys on Friday Morning.

Denver, Col., Aug. 4.—Private information came from Omaha last night that the conference of Chief Ramsey and the telegraphers committee with General Manager Dickinson, of the Union Pacific, had resulted in failure and that a general strike on that road had been ordered for Friday. This will greatly embarrass the road because of the rush to the conclave. Templar commanderies of the east which chartered trains long ago have been notified that the companies will do the best they can, but that a delay of 12 to 24 hours will take place.

POSTAL CLERKS.

Annual Convention Held in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 4.—At 10 o'clock yesterday morning President C. A. Guthrie called the annual convention of the Railway Postal Clerks' association to order and introduced Alderman W. H. Coots, who made the address of welcome on behalf of the city. G. W. G. Estorer responded on behalf of the association.

President Guthrie then delivered his annual address, which was a clear, forcible statement of the objects and needs of the association, and a resume of the past year's work. When he closed ex-Postmaster General Don M. Dickinson was introduced and was given an enthusiastic reception.

He made a very happy and brilliant speech and at its close held an informal reception, a vote of thanks being tendered him.

In the afternoon the visitors were given a boat ride on the river and lake, and in the evening the annual banquet and reception was held at the Wayne hotel.

The ninth division of the Railway Postal Clerks, which includes Detroit, has elected the following officers: President, D. M. Wells, of Cleveland; vice-president, C. M. Bentley, Corry, Pa.; secretary, W. E. Nolley, Elyria, O.; treasurer, C. G. Davis; executive board, L. E. Crany, E. A. Dean, D. G. Johnson, J. A. Tinker, and T. H. Mitchell. W. W. Blackmer, of Detroit, and O. L. Crook, of Hastings, Mich., were elected delegates to represent the division at the national convention, representing the fifth and third classes respectively.

CHANGES IN BASE BALL

The Cincinnati Reds to be Shaken Up Again.

Rhines, Harrington and Tip O'Neill to be Released.

Tony May Go Into the Box Once More—News of the Track and Diamond of General Interest.

Cincinnati, Aug. 4.—(Special.)—There will be a general shaking up of the Cincinnati ball team in a few days.

The fair has been on the quiet, but it leaked out Wednesday that the change was about on hand.

Rhines and Harrington are booked for release.

Ever since their reinstatement they have not been playing the ball that is desired of them. In justice to both men, it might be said that both have been taking care of themselves, and the cause of their poor showing is a mystery.

Rhines is streaky,, and big Jerry is not in his old form.

This is not the only change. Tip O'Neill will be put on the bench, and young Genins, who has been playing ball for all it is worth, will be put in to play the left field regularly.

Genins has shown up well since he has been with the team, while O'Neill is just the reverse. On some days he plays a brilliant game, and others plays "dead" ball. The latter days predominate.

Who the new battery will be is kept a secret, but it is thought that Mullane will be the pitcher and with Morgan Murphy back again, the club can do very well with Vaughn as his running mate.

Columbus Grove, O., Aug. 4.—Five hundred people were at the ball park yesterday to see the home team defeated by the Findlays. A fine exhibition game was put up. Wallace, the south paw twirler for the home team, retired 23 men to the catcher, while Shuler for the visitors struck out 7. The features of the game were the home run by White, the infield work of Bartch and the base running of Johnston for the visitors. Wallace was poorly supported. Score:

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 4.—The grand circuit races began yesterday. The weather was fine and the sport exciting. It was proposed to-day to get off four races to make up for yesterday's postponed events, but the singular division and prolongation of the 2:29 trot prevented even the three scheduled events being finished. Rose Filkins won the 2:29 class in eight heats, the first five going to five different horses, something that has not happened on the turf before this year. Hamlin's Jocko won the special race, hands down, and Excellence succeeded in dividing heats with Burt Sheldon in the 2:21 trot, so that race goes over to to-morrow. The attendance was the largest for any first day in the history of Buffalo's track. The track was in good condition.

Lake Champlain, Aug. 4.—Members of the American Canoe association are beginning to pitch their tents at Willsborough Point, where the thirteenth annual meet of the organization is to be held. Nominally the meet opens to-day, but few of the boatmen have so far arrived, and it will be several days before the number is greatly increased. The races will take place between the 17th and 20th, and the meet will continue until the 25th. The site selected for the gathering is one of the most beautiful in the state of New York, and he meet promises to be the largest of the kind ever held.

STRICKEN AT HIS DESK.

Premier Abbott Faints While on Duty.

Physicians Claim His Illness is Not Serious, but He Will Have to Quit Work.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 4.—Premier Abbott was attacked with faintness and became insensible at his desk in the privy council yesterday. The premier rallied in half an hour and was driven to his chambers. Thither the minister of militia, the only other cabinet minister in town, was hastily summoned.

Every effort was made to keep the matter quiet. The premier has hitherto enjoyed good health, notwithstanding he is 72 years of age. Last night the doctors said he would soon rally, but that he must refrain from official work for some time.

THREE RIBS BROKEN.

A Man Working on Maumee Avenue Bridge Hurt.

Shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon Jos. Lwiski, a Pole working on the Maumee avenue bridge over the Lake Shore tracks, was struck by an engine. Three ribs were broken, his head cut, and one thumb was cut off. Park's ambulance was called and the injured man was taken to St. Vincent's hospital. He resides at 1559 Nebraska avenue.

MEETING POSTPONED

Of the Committee on Odd Fellows' Children's Home.

The meeting announced for last night of the full committee on obtaining a site for the proposed Odd Fellows' children's home was postponed on account of the chairman not being able to secure a room large enough to accommodate the crowd that will be present, the full committee comprising over fifty. The chairman notified the members by postal card that the meeting would be held to-night at Odd Fellows' temple, and it is desired that every member be presnt, as the executive committee have an important report to make.

HELD A MEETING

In Spite of the Terrible Electrical Storm.

About 150 people braved the elements to attend the Updyke meeting last night and there was a short praise service and sermon despite the fearful storm. There were three confessions and six immersions and the members and conductors of the meeting feel greatly encouraged. To-morrow (Friday) evening, Rev. Updyke will deliver a lecture on "Blues, Their Cause and Cure," for which a small admission will be charged. The lecture will be well worth hearing, and the singing of Prof. Hawes alone will be worth more than the small fee charged. It is hoped there will be a large turn-out.

OUR TRI-STATE FAIR.

Entries Dropping In at a Good Rate—Talk with Mr. Campbell.

Entries in the machinery department for the September exposition are coming in rapidly, the applications for space being great. In regard to this year's fair Mr. Campbell said to a Bee this morning: "I have been connected with Main hall ever since our fair began, and never before have I seen such a desire to exhibit. The interest manifested is quite wonderful, and many firms will go out this year who have not done so previously. To-morrow a new publication will make its appearance entitled The Toledo Exposition and the Great Inter-State Herald. It is an eight-page paper and contains much valuable information."

HERE YOU ARE, MR. MOORE.

Mr. Gunckel Challenges You to a Fishing Match.

Mr. John E. Gunckel called at the Bee office this morning relative to that blue fishing story told by Mr. Geo. E. Moore, in yesterday's Bee.

"Mr. Moore can talk all he wants about knocking me out," Mr. Gunckel said, "but I'll tell you what I will do. I will take him to Ten Mile Creek and guarantee to bait his hook, take off the fish and catch double as many as he can. I will wager the supper for the crowd at Uncle Billy's that I can beat him. Let him put up or shut up."

The writer was made referee, and Mr. Moore can get further particulars as to time and place by calling on or addressing the Referee, Bee office.

TO-NIGHT'S RALLY.

The Weather Delightful—Let's Have a Big Turn Out.

It is evident that no mistake was made in postponing the democratic ratificaton until this evening, as a change for the better has occurred in the weather. Memorial Hall ought to be filled to overflowing to-night to ratify the nomination of Cleveland and Stevenson. Hon. Frank Hurd will address his fellow citizens of Toledo, taking for his subject, "Protection and Wages." Homestead and other points furnish practical illustrations, which the distinguished speaker will undoubtedly point out, and every workingman in the city should be present. The address will appeal to the reasoning faculties of the people, not to their passions. Go and hear Mr. Hurd.

MISS JOSIE SKEHAN

Thought to be Dying at St. Vincent's Hospital.

Miss Josie Skehan, of the Free Employment office, is in a critical condition at St. Vincent's hospital. She has been in ill health for about six weeks, and the physician not seeming to understand her case, she employed Drs. Parker and Monroe, who pronounced her disease gastric fever, and recommended her removal to St. Vincent's where she could have the best care of experienced nurses. Accordingly she was taken to the hospital Tuesday morning, where she has rapidly failed. A Bee called there this morning, but was not allowed to see her, the doctors having ordered perfect quiet. A sister said that the doctors had not given up hope, but it was feared that she could not survive long.

VOTE FOR GEORGE B. HULL,

Democratic Candidate for the Council in the Seventh Ward.

The special election for councilman in the Seventh ward occurs to-morrow. The democratic candidate is Mr. George B. Hull. He has already served the people of the ward in the council faithfully and well, and, having consented to run again, there should be no question as to his election. Mr. Hull is one of Toledo's prominent business men, and is popular with all classes of citizens. His judgment on all questions likely to be brought before the council is sure to be of the safest kind. The city council needs just such material as Mr. Hull among its membership, and Seventh ward tax-payers will subserve their best interests by his election. The politics thrust into the contest is of secondary consideration, notwithstanding the antics of the small fry politicians. Vote for Hull and thus secure the services of a worthy and intelligent gentleman.

COL. BUNKER'S STALWART FORM,

As Seen by a Tiffinite—The Sixteenth's Camp and Parade.

The Tiffin Advertiser, in an account of the Croghan celebration at Fremont, has the following to say, regarding the Sixteenth regiment:

Declining Col. Lemmon's invitation to take places in the carriages during the parade through the city at 2 p. m. and to share in the entertainment tendered to the officers by Col. H. S. Buckland at his mansion opposite the place of regimental parade, the Tiffin visitors proceeded to make the most of their opportunity to inspect the camp and scrutinize the methods of the regiment, agreeably to the advice of their own superior officers. In many particulars the Sixteenth may well be imitated, especially in the order and flawless condition of neatness to which the tents and company "streets" are policed. The regiment is not so large as the Second, but it has an earnest body of efficient officers, and in most cases each of the eight companies is unusually large this year.

The parade was simply an immense affair. It was full of features, interesting features at that, but the one over and above all others was the appearance of the soldier lads as they tramped down street, to the music of a dozen bands, the cynosure of thousands of eyes. The stalwart form of Col. H. S. Bunker at the head of the regiment, surrounded by his staff, was the signal for a generous salvo of applause, which was ready to burst forth, added to when several of the companies performed difficult movements during the march. Adjt.-Gen. Pocock, Asst.-Adjt.-Gen. Howe, Col. J. C. Bonner and a large number of other officers on Gen. Pocock's staff headed the procession, which was both military and civic in its nature.

CONTRACTOR WITZMAN

Will Build a New House for Dr. Keyes.

The contract for Dr. Keyes' new house, which will be situated on Eleventh street, and is to be a handsome frame structure costing $4,500, has been awarded to Mr. Max Witzman. He has also received the contract for a frame barn to be built on St. Clair street, near Washington for Mr. Robert Dakin, the cost of which will be $3,500.

BIG HOTEL MAN

Looking Over Matters—Much Pleased With the Ketcham Site.

J. H. Chassnig, proprietor of the Lindell hotel, St. Louis, is in the city to-day, with a view, it is said, of looking up a location for a hotel.

He pronounced the site for the proposed Ketcham hotel, corner of Adams and St. Clair streets, an excellent one, but whether he proposes having any connection with it or not is unknown.

CAPTAIN HEISTAND

Extends Congratulations to Col. Bunker—Notes.

This morning Col. H. S. Bunker received a letter from Capt. H. O. S. Heistand, U. S. A., congratulating the Sixteenth regiment on their fine soldierly appearance and the marked improvement which they made during their stay in camp.

The colonel has also received a fine painting in water colors of Gen. Buckland on horseback, presented to him by Mrs. Buckland.

Adjutant Rickenbaugh has returned home well and happy and declares they ought to have had two weeks instead of one.

Col. Bunker states the treatment received from the citizens of Fremont by the Sixteenth regiment was magnificent. Gen. Hayes and Capt. Buckland entertained the officers and their wives at their homes in a royal manner.

THE WORLD'S FAIR

Commissioner Platt Receives Word from London Sunday School Union.

Hon. Harvey Platt, one of Ohio's commissioners at the world's fair, has just received a letter of information that the London Sunday School Union will be represented at the world's fair. The letter is as follows:

The Council of the Sunday School Union, representing 149,221 teachers and 1,461,145 scholars in 6,200 schools of various denominations in Great Britian, have accepted the invitation to become exhibitors at the forthcoming world's fair, and they hope that many of their number and those whom they represent will also be visitors at Chicago.

Being thus interested, they desire most respectfully to express their earnest hope that your influence may be exerted to prevent the opening of the exhibition on the Lord's Day, and thus avert the sorrow which would be experienced by a multitude of Christian people by the excitement of a world's fair on Sunday.

Passed at a meeting of the council, held June 17th, 1892, and signed on behalf of the said council by F. F. Belsey, chairman.

LABOR NOTES.

The Machinists Went to Put-in-Bay.

International Association of Machinists held their weekly meeting at Turley's hall last night, but transacted little business, matters pertaining to the excursion claiming the attention of the members. This morning the City of Toledo took the mammoth excursion to Put-in-Bay, where they will be met by excursions from Cleveland, Sandusky and other points.

The Amalgamated Council of Building Trades has elected the following officers: President, H. T. Fanz; Vice-president, Thos. Nevitt; recording secretary, Henry Hantz; financial secretary, Thos. Welch; treasurer, Samuel Clapp; trustees, P. Kipe, P. Pryor, Owen McMahon.

THE C., H. & D.

Proposes Improving and Branching Out.

Meeting of the Stockholders Called at Cincinnati to Vote on a $3,000,000 Mortgage.

The C., H. & D. R. R. company proposes making some important improvements and extensions.

The extension looking to a line from Toledo to Detroit is one of the schemes contemplated.

A meeting of stockholders has been called to meet at Cincinnati, August 20, for the purpose of voting on the subject authorizing the execution of a mortgage supplemental to the general mortgage, securing an issue of $3,000,000 of 5 per cent. mortgage gold bonds.

It is proposed that the mortgage among others shall amend the general mortgage and grant power to the directory to increase the issue of general and supplemental bonds to a sum not exceeding $7,800,000, the $4,800,000 additional bonds to be used solely for the purpose of retiring bonds now outstanding, amounting to $4,800,000.

THE CIRCUIT BENCH.

Judge Scribner's Nomination Desired

By Voters and Citizens in General—Prosecuting Attorney Barber Has Views on the Subject.

The question of the election of judges this fall, especially for the circuit bench, is causing much thought on the part of the thinking men in the democratic and republican parties. Of course, the politicians are up in arms against anything which looks like curtailing their perquisites, but one thing is certain, and it has been proven on more than one occasion, that if the people are over-ridden in conventions, they generally take things in their own hands when election day rolls around. The Bee has already said that great pride is taken by the vast body of attorneys, as well as litigants, in the present circuit court bench, since it is not excelled by any in the state. Democrats did did not demur to the election of Judges Haynes and Bentley, but supported both gentlemen without objection. Why should the bench be now disturbed? Simply because Judge Scribner is a democrat, and some place hunter wants a job. It will never be.

Conversing with as good a republican as Prosecuting Attorney Barber, the Bee gained from him what are his own views as well as those of many others. Said he: "I know a good many who do not agree with the editorial in last night's Blade in the matter of the nomination and election of a circuit judge to succeed Judge Scribner. A good many republicans—I am free to state that I am one of them—believe that the judiciary ought to be left out of politics as much as possible. Partisan action and conflict often produce the worst judges instead of the best. Occasions often come when we should disregard politics and partisanship. That occasion now exists with us. We are very fortunate in having honest and excellent judges.

"There are no two other and more upright judges on the Ohio bench than Judges Scribner and Pugsley. These men are away above party and partisanship. They are not only good judges, but great judges. They are men of the highest character, fearless and incorruptible. Besides, there are not a great many abler minds in this country.

"Why should not such men be kept on the bench? It is mighty important to any people to have the greatest and best men for judges. You will find a great many who will put this stronger than I do.

"I know there are many who do not agree with me, but hold the contrary, and whose views are precisely those of the Blade's editorial. I assert that the latter are in the minority. I have talked with some of the lawyers of Erie county, Sandusky and Wood, and many who are not lawyers, and the feeling is very strong among both democrats and republicans that Judge Scribner should be kept on the circuit court bench another term, and that Judge Pugsley should be the only person named for the common pleas vacancy."

THE QUESTION OF TOLLS

Is Still Bothering the Canadian Government.

President Harrison Will Issue no Proclamation.

Vessel Passages Through the Straits and Rivers—Rates and Cargoes—Generl Mention.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 4.—There was shown Premier Abbott yesterday morning a dispatch from Washington to the effect that President Harrison would not issue any proclamation putting into operation the statute authorizing him to impose tolls upon foreign vessels using the Sault Ste. Marie canal, but would simply order his officials to collect the tolls.

The premier said that whenever the tolls were imposed the government would pay the maud lay the matter before the British government.

Business men interested in shipping are urging the government to stop the rebate system and to collect full tolls on all vessels alike or abolish the tolls altogether. The government would like to do so but for the fact that it looks like yielding under pressure from Washington.

Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Plenty of wheat was being offered to-day for shipment to Buffalo at 2 1-4. Some agents were figuring on getting better figures before long and boats are not being chartered except when nearly ready to load.

There was also good business for Georgian Bay.

Question of Authority.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Complaint of vesselmen against the proposed South Halstead street bridge has been referred to the United States engineer here by secretary of war for investigation. The city has so far ignored the war department.

Lost a Sand Scow.

Amherstburg, Aug. 4.—The steam barge Arctic, bound up, with two sand scows in tow, lost one of them off Rondeau point. Vessels will have to keep sharp look out for it.

Burned to the Water's Edge.

St. Ignace, Aug. 4.—The steamer Remora burned to the water's edge after which she sank. Captain Vosburgh and a watchman, who were the only persons on board, had a narrow escape from death. Both were seriously burned before they could be rescued. The total loss is $12,000; insurance $5,000.

Damaged a Lock.

Cornwall, Ont., Aug. 4.—The tug Ranger ran into the gates of lock No. 19 of the Cornwall canal, breaking the gates and tearing down part of the masonry. Traffic is temporarily suspended, although it may be resumed in the morning as a large force is at work. The Ranger has been seized by the government. The crew claim they are not to blame, as they say that the lights indicating that the lock was open were displayed.

Sault Range Lights.

Sault, Aug. 4.—It is expected that all range lights on the Soo river except the one at Black Hole will be lighted to-night for the first time.

The Huron City Disabled.

COMING TO TOLEDO.

Columbus and Detroit Superintendent.

A Reception Here, Followed by a Trip to Put-in-Bay—Toledo Superintendents Going Too.

There are a good many superintendents of railroads in this territory who in the drive and hurry of business have had but little opportunity to meet in a social way. Many of these gentelmen know each other through their correspondence only. Arrangements have been made for a general coming together, the initial step having been taken by the members of the Columbus Superintendents' association. They have invited the superintendents of Toledo and Detroit to join them in a little outing, and the invitation has been accepted.

The Columbus gentlemen will come to Toledo on the morning of Saturday, August 13, and will be joined by those from Detroit. A reception will be held at the committee rooms in the Bee building in the afternoon, when introductions will take place and the party will become acquainted. A boat will be chartered and in the evening they will start for Put-in-Bay, where they will put up at Hotel Victory. The party will return the Monday following.

The furnishing of the rooms of the Toledo association will be completed for the occasion. The handsome furniture and the new carpets are now being put in place.

A WARNING

That will interest every reader and should be given their immediate attention, thereby doing away with the possibility of being a victim of a fraud now practiced, many people having already bitten, but regret the mouthful taken, as it was not as claimed, and their money beyond recall.

We do not alone give this warning to show up the fraud, but to protect the high reputation of a name that should be free from all blemish, and due to its high attainment is the birth of the fraud now imposed on the public; for dealers and bar-keepers find that they must respond to the demand for "Cold Tea" whisky (created through the thousands of samples sent out by the Cold Tea Co., and the high praise of patrons), resulting in a comparatively inferior liquor being sold over the bar under the name of "Cold Tea" by unscrupulous dealers and saloonkeepers.

All practices of this description are liable to prosecution and will be punished to the full extent of the law, as Cold Tea is a copyrighted name of the best and oldest whisky sold in Toledo, being only for family and medicinal purposes, the Cold Tea Co. under no circumstances selling to dealers or saloonkeepers, but only to physicians, hospitals and families.

We invite a comparative inspection made whereby we will prove to all the superiority of "Cold Tea" substantiating your own convictions by presenting you with written testimonials from Toledo's leading physicians, which claim age, purity and medicinal properties for "Cold Tea."

Remember only procurable at the Cold Tea Co.'s office or sample room, 436 Summit street. Telephone 1080.

THE AVENUE GIRL.

Two pretty girls, in all the bravery of their summer toggery, started to walk down Woodward avenue to see the sights, be seen themselves and finish up on a wild delirious soda fountain glass of ginger ale.

"It's my treat to-day," said No. 1, as she turned her impecunious pocket inside out in the search for a dime.

"Let's make it a Jersey treat—you pay for yours and I'll pay for mine," suggested No. 2.

"I've thought of a scheme," suggested her friend. "The one who makes the most bows shall treat. Let's count the people we meet who know us, and count the bows we will have to make. That will be fun."

"All right," answered the other, and they resumed their walk.

It was No. 1 who suggested the scheme, and in a few minutes a gentleman passed the young ladies and raised his hat.

No. 2 bowed, but No. 1 looked as unconscious as a girl of marble.

"Why, you know Charlie G——, don't you?" asked No. 2.

"Was that Charlie? But he bowed to you," answered No. 1 meekly.

Bow—bow—bow—they passed innumerable acquaintances, but never once did the blonde-banged head of No. 1 incline itself. Her friend tumbled to the situation at last.

"You've won," she said; "come in and have a wowsy, all-around ginger ale, for you've earned it; but you have cut every friend you have in the city."

"Oh, it'll be fun making up," answered No. 1, as she clutched her empty pocketbook and thanked her wits for getting her out of a scrape.—Detroit Free Press.

THE OLD HORNBOOK.

How many people know what a hornbook is, or rather was? For granting that some hornbooks are still found in curiosity shops and the like places, they yet belong too much to the past to be lightly written of in the present tense. But, however out of use now, we may be sure that our great-grandfathers and grandmothers, or at least all of them who knew how to read, were no strangers to the hornbook.

A hornbook was, as its name implies, a book of one page and one leaf, a sheet of light-colored horn, with or without a wooden frame, with the letters of the alphabet, big and little—from A to Izzard, as the old people say—engraved upon it; very substantial, and alas! uninviting to the infant mind set to learn from its dingy surface. But in the day of hornbooks, children's taste for pretty pictures, bright colors and general variety was not much consulted; and the hornbook, compared with our own primers and spelling books, was, perhaps, as dreary as the "Elements of Morality" or "Improving Selections for Youthful Minds" in contrast to "Little Women" or "Alice in Wonderland."—Peterson's Magazine.

Mary Anderson (Mrs. Navarro) emerged from her retreat in London the other day at the call of charity. At the Catholic bazaar, opened by Lady de Trafford, Mary Anderson, looking as charming as ever, was not only among the guests, but assisted at the stalls, and autographed her own portraits to increase the proceeds of the sale of work, which are to go towards the maintenance of the Catholic schools.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

A note of interest to traveling men appears elsewhere.

Alfred Goulet has been appointed administrator of the estate of Mary Goulet.

Rev. Sage, of St. Paul's church, East Toledo, will preach at Trinity church next Sunday.

Henry Harmon, mentioned in last evening's issue, as one of the youthful burglars arrested, was taken as a witness and not for any criminal act.

Frank Wedge, who has been living in Toledo for some time past and working on the Lake Shore, was injured on the road last evening. Both hands were badly mashed. He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital.

The city engineer and city electrician have decided to allow the electric light company to carry their cable across the river on the Cherry street bridge. This is to reach the main part of the city from the Maumee rolling mill.

Marriage licenses have been issued to the following persons: William L. Stine and Mary E. Whitaker, Jackson Ricket and Lucy Reeves, Joseph Frankfust and Rosa Levi, John J. Meyer and Clara Speckhardt, Henry Barnett and Agnes Heller.

Mike Sweeney and Chas. Rippk were arrested on Western avenue last evening. They are wanted for stealing cigars, whisky and everything but the empty bottles from the saloon at the corner of Segur avenue and Lenk street, about a month ago.

Attorney Wm. Webster has received a telegram from Washington, D. C., stating the allowance of claims in a patent case for a device, which, he says, will revolutionize the art of printing, mechanically. The patent is backed by a wealthy Detroit gentleman, and the facts in the case will be given for publication.

The Pennsylvania workingmen don't care for Mr. Carnegie's gifts. What they demand is their share of protection wages.

Col. Henry Clay King is a historic and high-sounding name to be borne to the gallows by an assassin. Which will happen if the Governor of Tennessee doesn't interfere to-day.

Col. Shephard ought to be pilloried or ducked or have something Puritan done to him. He is attempting to drag scripture into the "mire of politics." His text yesterday was:

He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread; but he that followeth after vain things is void of understanding.

He is trying to scare the farmer into contentment under republican misrule.

You notice the sympathizers with criminal negroes, and the inciters to negro uprising, never mention the crime for which the black man meets such summary penalty, in connection with their harangues. The negroes lynched a negro ravisher, one day last week, in Alabama, and the bare mention in the dispatch was all the attention the act received. There was "no politics in it."

The people's party managers in the west say the influx of negroes into Kansas, Oklahoma and other states is an effort to colonize them for the November election. It looks vastly like it, as the work of inducing Sambo to leave his crops and his neighbor's field that goes to waste for lack of harvesters, is all done under cover and in the strictest secrecy. A republican organ says the negro lynchers are responsible. Let lusty, brutal Sambo attempt his fiendishness in the western states and see what mercy he will meet.

It is a pretty good one on Gov. McKinley (or would be if "discrepancies" ever troubled him), the putting side by side his remark when invited to debate the tariff with Col. McClure: "I see nothing but partisanship in the issue," and the opening remark of his Madison speech: "I am here to discuss the tariff, not as a partisan, but in its relations to business." Did the Governor mean that to be obiged to answer an opponent's questions would necessitate a descent into partisanship? If he can make a more partisan speech than the one he delivers for $350 a time when he has opportunity, he would better not be encouraged to try. It would needs be a disgrace to all campaign oratory.

VERY CONVINCING.

"It seems," says a Washington dispatch, "that the overwhelming democratic victory in Alabama was obtained by the same fraudulent methods by which democrats have held control of the southern states against undoubted republican majorities."

These "seemings" are as easy to the partisan scribbler as rolling off a log. And they amount to about as much.

THE SEVENTH WARD ELECTION.

To-morrow the Seventh ward will vote for a councilman to succeed Mr. Swain, resigned. Mr. George B. Hull is the democratic candidate. He served the Seventh with distinction as councilman two years and ought to be returned. There is no politics in this election. Mr. Hull is practical in all things and his election would most excellently conserve the interests of the ward.

THE LEADING QUESTION.

The Homestead affair has shown to other wage-earners and to men in unprotected industries what salaries the beneficiaries of the tax law can afford to pay their skilled men and yet be able to make over a million dollars profit yearly for separate members of the firm. Does the iron and steel industry in America, which Mr. Carnegie boasts dominates the markets of the world, need any more government bounty?

A POSITIVE DISGRACE.

The boards of council ought to be resourceful enough to devise some practical method of keeping the principal streets of Toledo clean. That they do not or can not is a shame to them and an outrage upon the community. Adams, Monroe, St. Clair, Superior, Huron, Madison, Summit and other streets are either muddy to a degree of filth, or so dusty as to make life and business a burden. The good people of Toledo are wonderfully patient to submit to these things. The council ought to take up the subject vigorously, and institute reforms that will be cleanly. If one expedient fails try something else. Above all things, do something for our streets.

THE MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie will be the famous "man without a country." The Scottish labor societies are resolving, in consonance with those of America, that they want none of his gifts. The London Saturday Review calls him—

"That most self-asserting and underbred bore of our time, Citizen Carnegie."

And the Toronto (Can.) Empire remarks to its Trade League readers:

It was Mr. Andrew Carnegie, the hero of Homestead, who attempted to injure the United Empire Trade League in the interest of American manufactures, by asserting in The Nineteenth Century that the objects of the league were "mistaken, impracticable and pernicious." Colonel Howard Vincent will no doubt now realize that this proposed trade arrangement is forever at an end.

And yet Mr. Carnegie will find plenty of the old world nobility to ride in his princely coach with him.

SUCH OCEANS OF PROTECTION.

Those English and French firms that, according to accounts, are hustling over here to establish their business, are all coming in the interest of American labor, to be sure. That they engage their pauper labor before they leave for our shores, is an incidental fact not necessary to mention. The assertion of republican organs that prices of factory goods have gone down and wages of employes are on the increase, is another inducement! Dear old monarchists! Great philanthropists! How they must love the republic, to come over here in shoals and platoons to help us protect our workingmen. It is the splendid example of Mr. Carnegie that makes them all want to go and do likewise. With the capitalists of America and Europe combined to protect American labor, American labor oughtn't to have such a distressedly hard time of it.

FRANK HURD TO-NIGHT.

Remember the meeting at Memorial Hall to-night. Mr. Hurd has prepared, with great care and thought, an address that no Toledoan should fail to hear. That the subject, "Protection and Wages," will be handled in a masterly manner, needs scarcely to be said; and Mr. Hurd's eloquence as an orator is too well known to need repitition of praise. The intelligent men and women of Toledo will be out in force.

Adam was the first man to sell a race.—Texas Siftings.
And he got his tip from a woman.

GOOD MR. GRAHAM

Will Know More When He Reads This.

Trying to Work Toledoans With a New Green Goods Scheme—A Copy of His Letters.

The attention of the police has been called to the fact that another set of green goods men are attempting to work this section of the country. The letters being received in this locality are somewhat different from the general run of green goods letters and on that account will be of interest if only to show how dupes are baited. One received yesterday is as follows:

Dear Sir: Although we are strangers to each other, I have concluded to take a dare-devil chance of jeopardizing my liberty in endeavoring to secure your confidence and friendly co-operation in a scheme which, if grasped now, will make you independently rich, and will at the same time better my own condition.

There is no doubt but what this communication contains some rather startling and unexpected information. Indeed, it is in relation to a matter of great importance and requires serious and careful consideration.

I am now going to write plainly and to the point. Before I begin, however, I wish to assure you candidly that no harm or insult is intended, so if I have made a mistake in addressing you, or the proposition I suggest should prove objectionable, I trust that you will not be so heartless as to betray one who is willing to be your friend and benefactor.

The writer is now nearly 75 years of age and for 28 years was the superintendent of steel engraving in one of the largest and best equipped bank note companies in this country. During my leisure time I took up as a side issue the engraving of some duplicates, which, I can conscientiously say and prove to your entire satisfaction, cannot be distinguished from the genuine articles that are issued by the government.

Now, my dear sir, my age and physical condition is such that I require the assistance of others throughout the country to assist in the distribution of these articles. I therefore seek a trustworthy individual, who has a few hundred dollars to invest in a scheme of this kind, to act as agent and push their circulation in your locality.

If you think favorably of this matter and wish to have me present evidence which will satisfy the most skeptical that my statements are pure and unadulterated facts, I will, on receipt of a telegram from you, be more than pleased to appoint a place of safety for an interview where you can thoroughly examine the goods and subject them to any test whatever you may desire.

My terms are 20 per cent. on the dollar. The lowest amount you can invest is $200 and the highest $500.

Yours sincerely,
W. E. GRAHAM.

P. S.—Correspondence on this matter through the mails is illegal and extraordinary precautions must be taken by me in order to avoid being arrested for this abuse. The only way you can reach me is by telegraph. (No letters—remember that). Simply send a prepaid telegram addressed to W. E. Graham, 172 Hudson street, New York, and say, "Write insurance policy for," then sign your name and address, where a reply will be sure to reach you.

Remember, your address must accompany your name, as the one I now have will be immediately destroyed to avoid any unforseen accidents.

Of course no one but ourselves will know its meaning, so have no fear.

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR

Toledo Has Another Industry to Exhibit.

The Yaryan Manufacturing Company Will Make a Notable Exhibition, Costing About $10,000.

The Yaryan Evaporator company is preparing plans for a grand exhibition of its apparatus at the world's fair.

The New York end of the concern is handling the matter and proposes having the greatest exhibit of the kind at the fair.

Mr. H. G. Yaryan, talking with a Bee this morning, said negotiations had not been definitely closed, but that his company would be there and would have an exhibit that will be well worth seeing.

The cost to the company he thought would be about $10,000. That with the Smead, the Woolson's, the Libbey and other exhibits Toledo will be well represented.

A LIVELY MARKET

Toledo Real Estate Moving in All Quarters.

A Syndicate Buys at Put-in-Bay—Dr. Barber Buys a Home Site—Other Sales.

The Baumgardner-Ricks syndicate has purchased at trustees sale two tracts at Put-in-Bay. They are lots 40 and 41. Their appraised value was $3,250 and $1,902.50 respectively, and were bought in at two-thirds the appraised value.

Quite a number of Toledoans have bought slices of the property, of which V. Doller is assignee, in trust for the benefit of the Rivera creditors.

I. H. Detwiler & Co. to-day sold 75 feet on Ash street, between Erie and Ontario streets, to Emanuel Zeigler, for $35 per foot, amounting in all to $2,625. The property is located in Stickney's addition.

This firm also sold lots 149 and 150, Oliver addition to Lena Aleiger, for $5.-200.

Wright & Russel sold a house and lot on Chestnut street, to Frank Swartlowski for $700.

This firm also sold three lots in Robisin's Riverside addition for $1,150 each. One on Genessee street to Alexander Stevens, another on the same street to George Mayos, and another on Grand street to Rudloph Antolech. They sold to Mrs. Elizabeth Humphrey lot 33, Sloan, Ashley & Bassett's addition, for $1,350.

James B. Foley, by his agents, Irving B. Hiett & Co., sold to Mrs. Elizabeth M. Barber, lot 44, Parkwood Place, for $1,-750. The firm also sold to the same party for Dr. H. A. Tobey, lot 45 Parkwood Place, for $1,750, amounting in all for the site $3,500. On the location Mrs. Barber will build a beautiful residence at once.

DEMOCRATIC DESSERT.

Marvels of Marvels! That Law.

McKinleyites hold that taxing an article makes it cheaper, and that this wonderful cheapening process enables manufacturers to pay higher wages!—Whelling Register.

The Carnegie Method of Retrenchment.

The filibusterers against the world's fair appropriation will soon have wasted more than $5,000,000 in their fruitless fight to prevent that sum going to save the great exposition.—Atlanta Journal.

And Why Is This True?

The general tendency of life at the national capital is more or less demoralizing, and an experience there of one or two winters is not calculated to promote a higher moral standard.—Kansas City Star.

It All Depends.

"I know of no subject," says Mr. McKinley, "more dull than the subject of taxation." The discussion of the subject of taxation may be dull, Mr. McKinley, but taxation itself is one of the keenest, shrewdest, slickest ways of making a man shell out all he earns to live, ever conceived by human mind.—Chicago Mail.

They Read the Signs Aright.

The nomination of Nelson for governor by the republicans of Minnesota is a public proclamation that tariff reform has shattered the ranks of the high tariff tax party in the west and northwest; and it is not disguised that he was chosen to lead the party because he is not a protectionist and because he voted for the Mills bill.—Philadelphia Times (Ind.)

Cannot These Workingmen Comprehend?

While protectionists are bearing down workingmen's wages in Pennsylvania they are energetically forcing up the price of binder twine to farmers in Iowa. The farmers up there make vigorous protest against the advance to two cents a pound on twine. Have they no gratitude? Are they not blessed with a high protective tax on seed wheat?—Sanford (Cal.) Journal.

The False Ring in the "Key-Note."

Mr. Aldrich's speech is neither broad, philosophical nor fair. He does not attempt to defend or promote the general welfare, because he is the attorney of special interests. He ignores general economic principles, disregards the gains of civilization, juggles with figures, insinuates untruths or half truths, and attributes the achievements of progressive humanity and the blessings of beneficent nature to legislation enacted at the dictation and under the supervision of manufacturers for whose pecuniary benefit it exists, and who in turn corrupt the electorate to secure its continuance.—N. Y. World.

The Milk in the Coconut.

President Harrison has vetoed the bill for the relief of William McGarrahan. Naturally, McGarrahan is poor and the men who are operating the valuable mines to which McGarrahan lays claim are rich. And one of these, too, is Pacific railroad magnate D. O. Mills, father-in-law to Whitelaw Reid, who is President Harrison's present running mate. Mr. Harrison will have a hard job in explaining away this veto. The bill to which he refused his signature merely provided for referring McGarrahan's case to the court of claims, where it could be acted upon judicially and the right and the law and the equity in the matter be determined. President Harrison's veto means simply that McGarrahan is deprived of the right to be heard in the courts. But then McGarrahan is poor, and D. O. Mills is in the habit of contributing liberally to the republican campaign fund.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

JOHN CHINAMAN

Owes Revenue Collector Waldorf a Grudge.

Acting on Mr. Waldorf's Suggestion, John Must Have His Picture Taken in Order to be Registered.

Under the regulations for the issue of certificates of residence to the Chinese living in this country, a copy of which was yesterday received by Revenue Collector Waldorf, it is obligatory that John present his photograph with his application for a certificate.

Last May, when the matter was under consideration, Mr. Waldorf wrote Secretary Foster suggesting that applicants be obliged to accompany their photograph with applications.

Acting on this suggestion Secretary Foster has issued the following application blank:

I, ——, a Chinese ——, hereby make application to the Collector of Internal Revenue ——— for a certificate of residence, etc., ———, and state that I arrived in the United States on the ——— at the port of ———, and, etc.

I further state a true photographic likeness of myself is affixed to this application.

Relative to the photographs the report says:

Every applicant will be required to furnish three unmounted photographic likenesses of himself or herself, one to be affixed to the application and two to be affixed to the certificate of residence, one to the original and one to the duplicate. These photographs will be securely affixed to the papers by strongly adhesive paste. Great care will be taken in receiving the photographs to see that they accurately represent the features of the applicant.

If the collector or his deputies have any doubt in regard to the correctness of the photograph presented, they will refuse to receive the application and require a correct one.

The photographs shall be sun pictures, such as are usually known as card photographs, of sufficient size and distinctness to plainly and accurately represent the entire face of the applicant, the head to be not less than 1 1-2 inches from base of hair to base of chin. No tintype or other metal picture will be received.

There are about 100 Chinese in the district, and each will be obliged to have their "pictures took" and application made for certificates.

All applications must be made on or before May 5, 1893, and must be accompanied by the affidavits of two reputable citizens.

TO ENLARGE THE PLANT.

The Paddock-Hodge Maize Mill to be Doubled.

New Machinery Costing $15,000 Secured and Work Begun on the Structure.

The Toledo Maize company, of which Paddock, Hodge & Co. are the chief owners, has decided to double its capacity.

The works are located at the corner of Nebraska avenue and the Clover Leaf railroad. The company has secured a tract of land adjoining, and will erect an addition to the present structure.

New machinery of the newest design, costing $15,000, has been purchased, and men are now at work preparing to place it in position.

The plant when completed will be one of the largest and best of its kind in the country.

A stock raiser and ranch owner of Homer, Neb., has just contracted one of the ghastliest marriages on record. He was a widower. Ten days before his second union, he declares, he received a spirit message saying that his wife was in a perturbed state, his approaching marriage being the cause. To propitiate the wounded spirit the stockman and his bride were married at midnight on the grave in which his first wife was buried. From exposure and fright the strangely-made bride has since been confined to her bed.

Every Fellow for Himself.

The removal of the duty on lead would cause a great many of the mines in Colorado to be shut down, and the men who are now working in those mines would be thrown out of employment. The man who is in favor of the free admission of lead is an enemy of Colorado's mining interests.

Furnish the Bricklayer a Map.

The bricklayer enjoys in the sale of his labor all the benefits which a prohibitory tariff confers upon a manufacturer. Who Are "Our Own People?"

Free-traders argue as if we were under some sort of moral obligation to furnish work for the laboring classes of Europe. If we were ever under such obligation we have discharged it. In the last thirty years we have received 10,000,000 of the population of Europe, and have given them such homes, wages and prosperity as they had never known before. Now we have the right to look after our own people.—Louisville Commercial.

After the Senate.

The decision of the senate to postpone action on the anti-option bill until the next session is a distinct victory for the gamblers in food products. They are assured, perhaps, at least another year of unrestricted operations, and at any rate they will be permitted to manipulate the present year's crop without let or hindrance. They have reason to congratulate themselves upon having brought the senate to a compliance with their wishes.—Omaha Bee.

SIZZ! CRACK!! BOOM!!!

Pyrotechnic Display in the Heavens Last Night.

A Severe Electrical Storm Which Produced Some Beautiful Effects—Weather Observer Hanner Says a Word.

Toledo witnessed a regular 4th of July celebration in the heavens last evening, cannons, fire crackers, fire works, and all, the display being produced by Dame Nature herself.

Speaking of the electrical storm, Observer Hanner, of the weather bureau, said to a Bee: "In my experience in the weather service, I never saw the atmosphere so thoroughly charged with electricity. I was up on the roof during the severe part of the storm, and the display from that position was beautiful, and impressive. The storm was exceedingly low. The lightning seemed to dart among the trees and buildings, and reminded me of a display of fire works in the distance. When the lightning would flash in the distance I could hear it crackle, apparently just above me, and at one time I received quite a severe shock. I could also see colored lights playing here and there on the iron pickets on the roof. The storm originated in this immediate vicinity, perhaps within two or three miles from Toledo. It moved across Lake Erie, as all of the Lake Erie stations report the effects of the storm.

"The heaviest rain fell at Sandusky, that station reporting 1.30 inches, while the others average about half an inch. This amount fell at this station. Toledo is the only place where hail fell, and some of the stones were half an inch in diameter."

MORE VOTING PLACES

Will Be Established in Toledo for Elections.

The Board of Election Holds a Meeting and Takes Action as to Seventh Ward Removals.

The board of elections met yesterday afternoon and discussed the preliminaries necessary for the holding of the approaching special election.

It was decided after full consideration that removals within the ward may vote. All voters who have moved from one precinct to another within the ward will be permitted to vote at the precinct from which they moved, provided, however, that they are duly registered at the precinct from which they removed.

The redistricting of the precincts of the city was also discussed at some length, but no action taken. The project must be completed within the next three weeks. Secretary King informed a Bee this morning that there would then be about twenty more precincts added to the city. This will increase the expense of election but greatly facilitate the operation.

Pendleton Renominated Despite the Judge Bennett Opposition.

Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 4.—The democratic congressional convention at New Martinsville renominated Congressman John O. Pendleton. He was bitterly opposed by friends of Judge Bennett, whom Pendleton's friends were instrumental in defeating in the state convention, but they could not muster sufficient strength.

At Hirniskretschen, in Bohemia, from the unequal working of nature in the destruction of rocks, has resulted a most colossal and ruggedly beautiful arch, the summit of which is upward of 1,400 feet above the sea level. The sides and top together appear at a distance like the frame of an immense picture, the latter being represented by the wildly romantic scenery which is visible through the opening of the arch.

MR. J. K. ELDERKIN.

The State Superintendent of Insurance,

Hon. W. H. Kinder, is After Him—The Case Comes Up in Police Court—There is a Misunderstanding.

The case of James K. Elderkin, secretary and general manager of the Citizens' Insurance company, who is charged with not permitting the representative of the state superintendent of insurance to examine his books, came up in police court this morning.

State Superintendent of Insurance W. H. Kinder, of Columbus, Werner Opes, deputy, and H. F. Celarius, deputy inspector of building associations, who had been detailed on this case, were present.

Judge Pike appeared for Mr. Elderkin and James H. Southard and Johnson Thurston assisted Prosecutor Wheeler.

Judge Pike, in behalf of his client, entered a plea of not guilty. Mr. Southard read the affidavit to the effect that Mr. Elderkin was agent for the Steedman Mutual Fire Insurance company, the affairs of which were in an unsound condition. It became necessary for the superintendent of insurance to look into the affairs of the company, and a representative was sent, July 7, to Mr. Elderkin's office for that purpose, whereupon Mr. Elderkin then and there refused to let the agent see the books and took measures to prevent him from securing them. Mr. Southard read the statutes bearing on the case.

The judge cited the penalty, if guilty, $100 or six months imprisonment, or both.

Judge Pike then asked if this was a trial or just a preliminary examination. He was told that the police court had final jurisdiction in such cases, and that it would be settled right there.

The judge then stated that he had been laboring under a misunderstanding. He had no idea that the court had final jurisdiction in the matter, but if the court assumed that it had, he did not want the trial to proceed at once, but demanded a jury.

The court decided that the defense had no right to ask for a jury at that point of the proceeding. However, as Superintendent of Insurance Kinder stated that the case was a very important one to him and to the state, as it would be in the manner of a test case, and as he did not want to give the defense any chance of complaint or loopholes for escape, he would suggest that a jury be impaneled.

The case was then continued until Saturday at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Elderkin was to have appeared before U. S. Commissioner Beckham Saturday to answer to certain other charges arising from irregularities in his business, but that matter will be arranged for some time not interfering with the police court proceedings. The case is exciting considerable interest among insurance men in the city and state.

"MOTHER'S ROOM."

I'm awfully sorry for poor Jack Roe;
He's that boy that lives with his aunt, you know;
And he says his house is filled with gloom
Because it has got no "mother's room."
I tell you what, it is fine enough
To talk of "boudoirs" and such fancy stuff,
But the room of rooms that seems best to me,
The room where I'd always rather be,
Is mother's room, where a fellow can rest,
And talk of the things his heart loves best.

What if I do get dirt about,
And sometimes startle my aunt with a shout?
It is mother's room and, if she don't mind,
To the hints of others I'm always blind.
Maybe I lose my things—what then?
In mother's room I find them again.
And I've never denied that I litter the floor
With marbles and tops and many things more;
But I tell you, for boys with a tired head,
It is jolly to rest on mother's bed.

Now, poor Jack Roe, when he visits me,
I take him to mother's room, you see,
Because it's the nicest place to go
When a fellow's spirits are getting low.
And mother, she's always kind and sweet,
And there's always a smile poor Jack to greet,
And somehow the sunbeams seem to glow
More brightly in mother's room, I know,
Than anywhere else, and you'll never find gloom
Or any old shadow in mother's room.

The first clippings of a baby's nails and hair should always be burned, or the child will have a bad disposition. Exactly why not burning the clippings will make its disposition bad, or why throwing them into the fire will sweeten its character there is no means of knowing, so I suppose the reason is the same as that given by a good many ladies and some men—it's just because.

Burr, of Nebraska, will probably receive the government's gold medal for having displayed both heroism and endurance in the rescue of two young ladies from drowing in the Blue river, near Crete, Neb., last summer. Miss Burr learned to swim at Lasell Female seminary, Auburndale, Mass.

Bismarck is always ready to give a reason for the faith which is within him. He recently gave the following as a reason for having kissed the hand of his new daughter-in-law: "My old master used to say that when a lady kisses one's hand it is an official intimation that you are an old man. As long, however, as you are allowed to carry their dainty hands to your lips, depend upon it there is a drop of young blood somewhere in your veins."

Women may be allowed to teach in the universities as well as to receive instruction from them. A Paris letter says Mrs. Emilie Kempin was recently made a member of the faculty of the University of Zurich, one of the most conservative institutions of learning in Europe. An honor of such a kind had never previously been conferred, it is said, on a woman in a German speaking country. Mrs. Kempin is a graduate of Zurich, where she received the degree of LL. D., and has spent several years in the United States.

For perhaps 100 years the sandy islands, rich in salt grass, skirting the Atlantic coast have been used as breeding grounds for a hardy race of wild cattle. They are small creatures, but as it costs nothing to feed them and they live without care from their owners they are profitable. The islands that fringe the Maryland coast have long been used in this fashion, and also for the raising of wild hogs, long-legged creatures of the razor-back variety, common among the pine forests of the eastern shore. Even as far south as the lower tip of Florida wild cattle are raised, and on the mainland of the peninsula single owners sometimes possess herds that number thousands. These cattle seldom attain a weight of more than 500 pounds, and many of them weigh less than 350 pounds. They are exported to Cuba in large numbers, where they fetch a fair price.

THE DOORS OF A PALACE.

Thirty years ago the owners of colossal fortunes were inclined to hide their wealth for fear of the results of envy. But millionaires have taken courage by reason of the number; they are no longer regarded with awe and spoken of with bated breath. Indeed, it is necessary for them now to make some display, or they are lost in the ruck of rich men. The best effect of this situation of things is the encouragement some of the millionaires give to American artists and artisans. It has taken some time, but every day they learn more surely that America can rival Europe in pretty much everything artistic. The great bronze and iron gates might have been as well made in France, but in that country no larger and perhaps no better-made work of this sort is produced. For one thing, American workmen are found to do work far quicker and with more intelligence than those who come across the sea with the reputation of skilled workmen.

In the half-light of a roomy shop, where the clang of hammer and anvil rarely ceases, these doors of forged work in bronze and iron were erected piece by piece until they almost touched the rafters. They were by far the largest of their kind in the United States, and perhaps for size have no equal in Europe. Moreover, they are peculiar in their combination of iron and bronze. Thus the doors are really double throughout. Although the same in design on the inner face as on the outer, the inside is formed of a soft steel polished to gun-barrel brightness, while the decorative reliefs riveted on are of bronze heavily clad with gilding. The outer face, on the contrary, is built of bronze, and the decorative lions' heads, scrolls, and leaves attached are of bronze colored green by verdigris, like the bronzes found in Pompeii and colored by natural processes in the soil.

The reason for this is a matter of the effect of damp air on iron unprotected by paint or galvanic deposit. The Marble hall to which these will be the entrance has an immensely high portico, sustained by ample pillars, as may be remembered from the views published in the papers of Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt's new residence in Newport. The doors are designed by Mr. W. H. Hunt, of New York, who planned that building, and the forged work is the product of the John Williams Foundry on West Twenty-seventh street, New York. Now the portico, supported by its lofty fluted columns, does little to protect the front of the doors from rain, even if the Newport climate charged with moisture did not carry rust into every part of a building not enclosed. Hence bronze was used outside and iron reserved for the inner face of the doors, which are quite as handsome as the outer. And what may be termed a separate and third door lies between them.

The doors are, in fact, part of a solution of the problem how to light the great hall, whose size and loftiness they indicate from outside. A space has been left between the inner face of iron and the outer face of bronze, and that space is to be filled with translucent stained glass, which permits light to pass. The effect of the design of the doors from within by day, when the white light enters, and that by night from without, when artificial light falls from within, can be readily imagined. It will give the facade of the Marble Hall at night a peculiar charm, and add much to the beauty of the interior by day.

Our illustration, taken in the shops, with linen stretched between the faces of the door to simulate the glass, can give but a faint idea of the appearance they will present when in place and complete. Even the engaged Renaissance square pilars, which repeat the general idea of the marble pillars of the facade of the house, and have their structural use in seeming to give strength to the wide door itself, are treated in open-work. So that while these doors will exclude the air, they will prove very hospitable to light.

In one respect it may be thought to show an artistic loss to have treated the four columns in this open-work style. The great beam which runs from jamb to jamb of the door—the lintel, in fact—is of extraordinary length, and seems incapable of sustaining the weight of front wall above it without support. The square columns in the door of metal perform the duty of seeming to help support this vast lintel. But the designer has weakened the force of the seeming support of these props by leaving openings in their shafts. Yet, as mentioned, he has followed the general motifs of the building itself more or less. Thus the square engaged metal columns are composite as to capitals, like those which rise on the house front to the heavy eaves and the big balustrade above them. The decorative lion heads repeat certain marble lion heads in relief, which serve as mascarons, from which jets of water fall into the basin of a fountain directly in front of the portico.

The lion heads in high relief over the doors, however, are accompanied by the lion-skins, which stretch right and left as decorative reliefs along lintels of the doors proper. Examination of the finer parts of the design, the spirals and rosettes of the panels, will reveal many beautiful points. The centers of the chief panels contain monograms of the letters W. K. V. Many of the motifs have been studied from French work of the seventeenth century, notably from iron-work at Versailles belonging to the reigns of the fourteenth and fifteenth Lewises of France. The little faces on the side panels recall the faces surrounded by rays with which the artists of his epoch flattered "Le Roi Soleil," the fourteenth Lewis, of sunlike glory.

This sumptuous door was designed in the office of Mr. Richard M. Hunt, and carried out by Mr. H. B. Stillman, manager of the John Williams shops. All but a few insignificant parts, which are cast, are of forged bronze and steel. It will be one of the most remarked portions of Mr. Vanderbilt's Marble Hall.—Harper's Weekly.

WHEN A MAN'S HELPLESS.

"A man never feels so utterly helpless as when a hurricane is having a little fun with him," said a namesake of Capt. John Smith at the Lacede. "A hurricane—most people call it a cyclone, but improperly—is a freak of temporary insanity which nature occasionally indulges in. I have had three tete-a-tetes with that kind of phenomena, and I hope the fates will remember that I have had my share. At Grinnell, Iowa, a few years ago, a hurricane used me to batter down a brick church. Then I went out to Kansas and was driven through a corncrib, head first. I was then used as a moprag to wipe up a couple of counties in Minnesota. I have had my skull cracked, both arms broken, and my internal economy so shaken up that I do not know where my heart is. When one of those black spirals strikes the earth and begins its war-dance, all the laws of nature and reason seem to be suspended. I have seen people carried a mile and landed unharmed, and others whipped to death in their own dooryards with the trees beneath which they sought shelter. I have seen battles, earthquakes and mine explosions, but the horrors of a well-developed hurricane exceeds them all."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

OWED IT TO THE OLD WOMAN.

How a Newsboy Struck a Snap in a Street Car

The car—it was a Fourth avenue one—was bowling along merrily. It so happened—as strange things do sometimes happen in this prosaic world—that all the seats on one side of the car were occupied by men and all the seats on the other side by women. The women were all young and pretty, too, which might be accounted a strange thing anywhere else than in New York. Now when a man is riding in a street car a pretty face is always a "cheering sight to see," but when there are a dozen lovely faces to contemplate the joy is proportionately increased. Serene enjoyment was depicted on the face of every man in the car. Forgotten were all the ordinary cares that infest the day. No man was in a hurry to reach his destination. In fact, there was much inward rejoicing at the lack of rapid transit.

Into this temporary abode of bliss hopped a shrill-lunged newsboy. When he perceived that not a man in the car had a newspaper his eye lit up with joyous expectancy.

"Extree! extree" he shouted fiercely and gleefully. "Full account of de 'orrible disaster 'n awful loss of life."

But the men only scowled at him.

"Wot's de matter wid de blokes?" he asked of the conductor before leaping off the platform.

"Can't you see?" replied the conductor, contemptuously. "Dey's taking in de pretty girls. Dey's de greatest lot of 'em on dis car I ever carried."

An old woman entered the car. She was fat and she was homely, and she waddled rather than walked. No man rose to give her a seat. Each man felt that his neighbor might be harboring some such intention and feared to anticipate him. The old woman waddled to the end of the car, heaved a sigh, and caught on to a strap.

"Pray take my seat, madam," said one of the prettiest of the pretty girls, rising.

"Oh, thank you, ma'am," replied the old woman, gratefully; "but it's a shame to deprive you of it. If I wasn't so old—but perhaps one of the gentlemen will give you a seat."

"Indeed," said the pretty girl, smiling, and thereby making herself look more bewitching than before, "I couldn't think of accepting one from any of them. They are all so dreadfully tired."

Half of the dozen men had started simultaneously to rise. They dropped back into their seats looking sheepish and dejected. And the half-dozen that hadn't begun to rise looked equally unhappy. A change had come o'er the spirit of their dreams. A pretty face is not a cheering sight to see when you know that its owner entertains a very small opinion of you. And every man in that car felt that every woman in the car, including the one who was old and fat, held a cheap opinion of him. Instead of seeking the pretty face opposite their eyes fell on the floor.

Another newsboy boarded the car.

"Extree! extree!" he yelled. "Full account of de 'orrible disaster 'n' awful loss of life!"

He didn't have to yell a second time. Every man was in a hurry to read that tale of disaster, so much so that they all actually buried their faces behind their newspaper.

And the pretty women all exchanged smiles and looked very much tickled at something.

"Golly!" said the newsboy to the conductor, "I struck it rich this time, didn't I?"

"You bet," said the conductor; "but you owe it all to de old woman."—New York Herald.

GEOGRAPHY FOR THE BLIND.

A geography for blind people has been contrived which enables them to gain a tolerably correct idea of the peculiarities of the earth's surface. The maps are carved from wood or molded in plaster, and accurately present the inequalities of the surface of the country. Mountains are of course represented by ridges in the map; oceans, rivers, and lakes by perfectly smooth, glassy surface, while a little group of toy houses represents a city. The system is admirable, since it is really an object lesson in nature and enables unfortunate people to gain ideas which they would never in any other way be able to acquire.

DETECTIVE HALL SORRY

That He Obeyed Harry Cherry Instead of Chief Spore.

He Won't Do It Again, and the Police Board

Excuses Him—Bi-Weekly Meeting of the Commissioners—Reports of Officers—Two New Policemen Elected.

The regular meeting of the police commissioners last evening was called to order at the usual hour, all members being present.

The health officer read his report for the month. The total number of deaths from all cases during the month was 144. Of these 38 were children, under 12 months old, from summer complaint. Cholera infantum claimed 29. Six died of violence.

Mayor Emmick, at the last meeting, was requested to confer with the city solicitor as to the legality of ex-Detective Duffey's bill of $112, for services rendered after his dismissal from the force. The mayor reported that the city solicitor informed him that he had never recommended the payment of the bill. It was his opinion that it was not a legal claim, and he was ready to go into court on it.

The meat inspector reported 2,953 lbs. of meat condemned.

The city chemist reported six samples of water analyzed, which tested fair; also, 20 samples of milk, 18 of which were beloy the standard and two above.

A communication was read, signed by Walter Brown, meat and food inspector, stating that on account of new duties imposed it was necessary for him to keep a horse, and he requested that the salary be restored to the former amount, $100 per month.

Mr. Waring moved that the salary be fixed at $100 per month. Mr. Stager seconded.

Mayor Emmick said that $3,000 had just been transferred from the police fund to pay for a patrol barn, and it would be well to investigate the funds to ascertain whether there was sufficient money on hand to bear the extra expense.

Mr. Potter moved that the mayor be instructed to investigate the funds and report at the next meeting.

Mr. Waring withdrew his motion, and Mr. Potter's motion prevailed.

Timothy Morrisey and John Gilroy filed claims amounting to $166 and $225, respectively, for salaries due during the time they were in idleness after being dismissed from the force, claiming that they were illegally discharged.

Mr. Doville moved that the claims be tabled, which carried. Messrs. Potter and Stager voting no.

J. H. Dean filed a claim of $99.26 against Patrolman Geo. VanBuskirk for groceries and provisions supplied. He requested that Van Buskirk be made to pay $10 per month on the account.

Mr. Waring moved that VanBuskirk be called before the board and show cause why he does not settle the account. The motion carried.

The committee on station reported the sale of the old patrol wagon for $75, to the Moreton truck company.

The station's pay-roll, police $6,229.46, police court, $702.14, sanitary $1,808.23, were reported and ordered paid.

At the last meeting the health officer requested that Charles McGuire, who is on the pension list, be assigned to duty on Sunday at the Forest cemetery. Dr. Fisher reported that McGuire was unfit for duty.

There were two vacancies to fill and a recess of ten minutes was taken to look over the applications.

On the call for candidates John O'Briski and D. E. Smith received four votes, Mr. Stager voting for John Gilroy.

Mr. Stager moved that a new clause be added to the manual of examination of applicants, requiring that all applicants must have lived in Toledo for five years after having become naturalized and must have the endorsement of three responsible citizens. The motion carried.

Detective Dolbert Hall appeared before the board to answer to charges preferred against him by Chief of Detectives Spore. The charges stated that on July 17, Commissioner Stager saw Hall enter Josie Ford's house of ill-fame on Erie street; that he entered in a sneaking manner, as though he was afraid of being seen. Mr. Spore received information by telephone from Commissioner Stager, stating where Hall was. Spore had sent Hall on a mission to the corner of Superior and Elm streets. He went over to Erie street and found Hall in. At first the woman who came to the door said that Hall was not in. Mr. Spore said he heard his voice and wanted him to come out at once. Hall then came out, and in explanation said that he came there with Harry Cherry, to look up a friend of the latter, who was drunk. Hall stated that he was en route to the point directed by Mr. Spore when he met Harry Cherry, who wanted him to help get a friend of his out of Josie Ford's place, who was in the city drunk. He supposed it was all right to go and help get the man, as he did not consider the other a matter of any great haste. He had never been in the place before, and did not know where he was.

Mr. Stager asked him whose orders he was to obey—Harry Cherry's or his chief's? Hall admitted he did wrong, said he was sorry, and would see that it would never happen again. They let him off.

The American Eagle took an excursion to Huron and Vermilion yesterday.

The exercises of Tuesday afternoon were under the auspices of the O. W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Clara C. Hoffman gave an address at 2:30 p. m. on "Our Legacy to the Future." At 4 p. m. a Demorest contest was held. Beside the contestant for the medal, Miss Wiant gave a recitation and Miss Hershiser's kindergarten class sang.

The last band concert of the season was given at 6:30 in the park. The Royal Hand Bell Ringers gave their second entertainment at 8 p. m., Tuesday. Beside the many grand things for the older people they gave two pieces for the children, to which the older people were forbidden (?) to listen.

Westminster Abbey Chimes was repeated by request. The gentlemen appear in the costume of courtiers of the time of Elizabeth.

The grand closing concert of this season was given Wednesday night. Mrs. Corinna Morre Lawson and Mr. Gustave Bernike are among the soloists. A grand program has been prepared.

This concert closes the program for the Sunday school encampment of '92.

In spite of the late summer the encampment has been as well if not better attended than usual.

The campmeeting will open Thursday evening, August 4.

Rev. S. A. Keene, D. D., is superintendent of the campmeeting. Revs. Letherman and Smith will have charge of the Young People's meetings.

The German campmeeting will begin August 9.

INSANE ASYLUM.

Toledo's Institution to be Duplicated by Massachusetts.

State Committee Pleased With Their Visit and Inspection—Entertainment at the Asylum Last Evening.

Massachusetts comes west for a pointer, and Boston visits Toledo in regard to building an insane asylum.

The Toledo institution is one that not only the United States but the entire world can pattern after, but the model cannot be excelled.

Massachusetts has decided to erect an insane asylum on the cottage plan, and yesterday a committee appointed by Gov. Russell arrived here and thoroughly inspected the Toledo institution in all its operations and systems.

The committee is composed of Herbert H. Federhen, a prominent lawyer of Boston; Nicholas Hatheway, Fall River, and Jeremiah Murphy, Worcester. The committe was accompanied by T. G. Park, ex-superintendent of the insane asylum at Worcester.

The legislature has appropriated $500,000 for the erection of the asylum, and the following letter to Dr. Tobey explains the object of the visit:

Boston, July 28, 1892.

Supt. of State Asylum for Insane, Toledo, Ohio:

Dear Sir: The committee authorized by the state of Massachusetts to construct an asylum for the chronic insane desire to visit that of which you have charge, and will leave Boston at 3 p. m. Tuesday next, arriving in Toledo at about 2 p. m. Wednesday, August 3. We do not desire to put you to any inconvenience, but wish to get some practical knowledge from actual observation. The committee consists of three members, one of whom visited your asylum in 1890; the other two are unfamiliar with "Cottage Hospitals," and wish to see one. The one to be constructed by this state is to be very similar to yours and is to be erected in Medfield.

If, without incommoding you, we may be allowed to visit your institution, it will be a favor.

Yours very truly,
HERBERT M. FEDERHEN,
Chairman of Bld. Com.

86 Tremont street, Boston.

The committee was loud in its praise of the institution, and said, before leaving last evening for Detroit, that the Massachusetts asylum would be fashioned and operated exactly like that here.

Dr. Tobey entertained the gentlemen and had prepared an elaborate musical and literary program for their entertainment, but they were unable to remain over night. The entertainment, however, was given to an audience of about 900.

It was a very pleasant and successful affair. Fully 800 of the patients were present, and a more orderly or well-behaved audience it would be impossible to find.

The program opened with a recitation by little Mamie Whalen. The child is truly a prodigy. A well rendered vocal solo by Miss Lucy Machen was followed by an excellent instrumental selection by Miss Clara Jefferson.

An amusing and clever musical sketch by Miss Bessie Werum caught the house, and Mrs. E. D. Walker and Miss Agnes Early were applauded in a vocal solo and a recitation, respectively.

Miss Tonsmeier, in an instrumental solo, and Harry Stevens and J. W. McGinnis in musical impersonations were good. Mesdames Walker and Lehman and Messrs. Earner and Lyle, the German quartette, received an encore and the entertainment was brought to a close by some excellent musical numbers by the Golden Lily Musical club.

IN AN ICE FIELD.

The Steamer Petunia Has a Peculiar Experience.

Philadelphia, Aug. 4.—The steamship Pedunia, just arrived from Pilley's Island, Newfoundland, has had an experience on her voyage which, though dangerous, would prove a welcome one to some of the individual's sweltering in this city.

On leaving Pilley's Island a couple of weeks ago the Petunia sailed through Badger Bay without incident, but when the Bay of Notre Dame was reached the difficulty came. The estuary was filled with ice, and in trying to force a passage the vessel was wedged in between a huge ice berg and a mass of drifting ice, and for nearly 24 hours enjoyed an arctic temperature.

The project is now being discussed by the inhabitants of Pilley's Island of capturing a few of these ice bergs and shipping them to New York.

If practical, this scheme will be of great value to the Newfoundlanders, as the ice is of a superior quality and so dense as to suffer little loss in transit.

Ministers, lawyers, teachers, and others whose occupation gives but little exercise, should use Carter's Little Liver Pills for torpid liver and biliousness. One is a dose. Try them.

LAWSUITS OVER MINCE PIE.

The latest phase of the famous mince meat litigation which has occupied the attention of the courts and the public for the past five years, is the announcement of Merrell & Soule, of Syracuse, N. Y., the manufacturers of the celebrated None Such brand of Condensed Mince Meat, that they have effected a settlement with the owners of the patent, by which they and their customers are exempted from all further share in the litigation, or claims for damages. The arrangement also provides future immunity to Merrell & Soule in the manufacture and sale of their None Such brand.

This is good news for mince pie lovers everywhere, who can now eat their None Such pies in peace. This brand has always been a decided favorite wherever introduced; and the further fact that it can now be handled without the risk of legal complications which attaches to the other makes, will doubtless add very largely to its already large sale.

FELL TO HIS DEATH.

Denver, Col., Aug. 4.—Everett W. Church, of Aledo, Ill., who was in Denver for his health, while sitting on a low window sill on the sixth floor of the People's National bank building to-day, lost his balance and fell headlong to the stone sidewalk, 100 feet below. His skull was smashed to pieces and death was instantaneous.

THE NEW YORK LIFE.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 4.—The report of the New York Life Insurance company for July, just filed here, shows that 6,700 life policies were issued during the last month, representing $16,000,000 of new insurance. This is the largest one month's business ever reported by any one company.

The municipal council of St. Etienne, France, has decided upon an interesting experiment, which is to distribute electrical power to 18,000 looms, scattered about in the homes of the inhabitants, 70,000 of whom are engaged in the ribbon industry. The power is to be supplied from the city reservoirs.

SAND LAKE.

A Toledoan Writes of Its Delights for Those Less Fortunate.

To the Editor: Would that your tired, hot and dusty denizens of even the sequestered and comparatively cool suburban towns could enjoy this lovely lake view and breezes with me. As this cannot be, let me annihilate distance, do away with the ride in heated cars, and give you a sort of pen picture of Sand Lake, Lenawee county, Mich.

Imagine, if you can, a sheet of pure water one mile and three-quarters long and a mile and a quarter wide, over its broad bosom float boats, both row and sail. They lie, many of them, close to the dock, for it is breakfast time and the freight they have brought are quietly eating the nice breakfast of fish freshly caught and the sweetest of bread and butter, good coffee, hot rolls and the small adjuncts which make up a good morning meal—just such an one as gives zest to the morning's ramble through the woods, whose beds of graceful maiden hair and wild flowers of every description tempt one to wander on and on in the tangled wildwood. You cannot well lose yourself, for here stands the dancing hall where fairy feet keep time to enlivening music, and over to the right are the tables of the picnic grounds and the summer houses, swings, etc., which make the place a resort. For miles around, from Adrian, Tecumseh and adjoining places come parties for the day. Boating and fishing and a sail on the lake make the day a delight. Bathing, too, is here the great attraction. The lake is called Sand Lake from the sandy deposit which makes bathing for children and adults a perfect joy. The water wooes you to venture farther and farther out in its warm embrace, treading the sandy floor, while like a thing of life it dances and sparkles and wafts you upon its silvery surface as if it were to worlds unknown. It is indeed a blissful experience. Peals of merry laughter ring out from happy hearts. To old and young who mingle in the sport it is an hour of pleasure. Even children can have their swim, dive and plunge, and the ever faithful board supports many who without it would not dare the gentle waving motion of the water. The children can walk out to great distance, play, buffet the mimic waves, swim after the boat, which is a nice adjunct to the dip, yet rise upon their feet and walk a quarter of a mile either way, so shallow is it in its sandy depths.

Fifty cottages of artistic design rise from the crest of the hills (for here one can see a hill) within a short radius of the hotel. These are built and inhabited by citizens of Chicago, Toledo, Adrian, Detroit and Tecumseh. They form, with the guests at the Lake Park hotel an agreeable and polite society. Most of the cottagers own their own sailing craft, and in the morning come skimming the water in sail boats or plying the oars for an early or late breakfast at the hotel.

Evening visiting is carried on in the same way. Each cottage has its own mooring, so you row to the dock, fasten your boats, pay your call and row homeward in the silver twilight.

The steamer Manitou, so called from the Indian name of the lake (the Great Spirit), but called Sand Lake from its sandy formation, makes its daily trips around the lake, nine miles in circumference. It is an ideal ride. To the lover of nature it is a silent one. The moon looks down from her starry home, the sky seems like an inverted tinted bowl and throws the opaline coloring into the waters of the lake, reflected in rainbow hues. The shore is girt by trees whose green foliage shows itself in the water, as we pass. Groves of woodland stand adjacent to yellow fields of golden grain and brown pasture, and shady lanes show themselves in a panoramic view as we glide by. Now the young people start a refrain—a college song—and the voices rise on the evening air. Lights gleam from the cottages, and an answering roundelay is heard, merry voices, happy hearts, beautiful surroundings, congenial society. What more can be asked or expected of a summer outing?

IN TRADING CIRCLES

Both at Our Home and Abroad.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 245,259 bu and at five other western points 640,384 bu, aggregate 885,643 bu. On the corresponding Thursday in 1891 the receipts were 739,522, with only 24,032 bu of northwestern wheat.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were: Wheat 714,198 bu and flour to an aggregate of 1,175,000 bu. Export of corn 82,494 bu and of oats 50,038 bu.

English markets are dull but steady for wheat and corn.

The Markets To-Day.

Extracts from Beerbohm show the crop news has not materially changed, but it is evident that in the importing states the crop will hardly yield an average. Russian reports are conflicting, but the export thence cannot assume old time proportions. The point to be remembered in all the old countries, with the exception of India and Russia, is that stocks in store are much above the average.

The clearances of wheat yesterday from four Atlantic ports were exceptionally large and wheat and flour equal to 1,175,000 bu.

A point in the deal is, the increased seaboard receipts of wheat. Some of it is due to the increased difference in price in western markets, between No. 2 and No. 3, as compared with last year.

The Kansas City newspapers are working hard for a bulge in corn, by harping on hot weather and hot winds. Their statements are in conflict with the signal service reports.

It has turned out a bull day on all kinds of grain, wheat, corn and oats. We are a little suspicious that wheat was carried up in sympathy with corn and oats, because of dull and discouraging markets abroad. The receipts at western points are higher but it may be for a day only. Taking one day with another, the wheat movement—spring and winter—exceeds the corresponding days in 1891. The bullish feature in wheat is, that it is cheap, and yet it is above English values. Is it a good time to get out the band wagon?

Liverpool wheat market is reported as closing lower.

In New York August wheat closed at 83 3-4c, a gain of 1-4c; September at 84 5-8c, a gain of 3-8c. August corn at 57 3-4c, and September at 56 3-4c, a gain on each of 1 5-8c. August oats at 38 7-8c, a gain of 1 3-8c.

In Chicago August wheat closed at 78 1-4c and September at 78 1-2c, a gain on each of 3-4c. August corn at 51 5-8c, a gain of 1 7-8c; September at 51c, a gain of 1 5-8c. August oats at 33 1-2c, a gain of 1 1-2c.

In Toledo we have had a less active day in wheat trading, and which was mostly for September. On the regular board prices opened a shade above yesterday's closing, and slowly improved and closed at the best prices of the day. August was weaker than September. At the close thelatter showed a gain of 3-4c, September 7-8c and December 1-2c.

On the call September sold at 80 1-4@80 1-8c, and December at 83c. After the call August sold at 80 to 79 3-4c, and closed at 80 1-2c. September sold at 80c and closed at 80 5-8c. December sold at 82 3-4c, and closed at 83 1-2c. October sold at 81 1-8c and closed at 81 1-2c.

Cash wheat was not so active. Sales of 90,000 bu of Nos. 2 and 3 soft. No. 2 soft opened at 80c, sold down to 97 3-4c and back to 80c; at close 80 1-2c was asked. No. 3 soft sold at 74c, and declined to 73 3-4c; at the close the market was 74 1-2c. No. 4 soft sold at 69c; rejected No. 2 at 66c.

Corn—No. 2 at 50c, closing higher.

Rye—No. 2 at 67c, No. 3 at 62 1-2c, rejected at 55c.

Clover seed unchanged; October was dealt in to the extent of 1,000 bags at $5 32 1-2.

Close in New York.

New York, Aug. 4.—Money 1 1-2@2 per cent. Exchange steady at $4.87@4.87 1-4 for 60 days and $4.88 1-4@4.88 1-2 for demand. Governments steady; currency 6s 106 1-2 bid; extended 2s registered 100 bid; 4s coup 116 bid. Sales of stocks during the morning hour 116,289 shares At noon prices were fractionally higher than they closed last night. At 1 p. m. the market is dull.

Flour firm; city mill extra $4.20@4.55; superfine $1.75@2.35.

Wheat opened firm and active at 3-8@1-2c advance on the Price Current's summary, showing a material deficiency in the yield. Toward noon there was some reaction, but prices at that hour were 1-8@1-4c higher; No. 2 red winter, 84 1-2@85c cash; 83 1-4c, August; 83 1-2c, September; 85 1-2c, October.

Corn opened strong at 1-2@3-4c advance and continued strong at the advance throughout; No. 2 mixed, 60c cash; August, 57 3-8c; September, 56c; October, 55 3-4c.

Oats dull but firm; No. 2 mixed, 38c cash; 38 1-4c, August.

Rye steady; 72@76c.

Barley neglected.

Molasses slow; New Orleans 30@35c. Sugar fairly active; cut loaf and crushed 5 1-16@5 3-16c; granulated 4 7-16@4 7-8c. Coffee dull; fair rio cargoes, No. 7, 13 3-8c. Rice, foreign in fair demand and firm; Japan 4 3-4@5 1-4c. Pork dull; old mess $12.75@13.00. Lard steady; September $7.78; October $7.80. Butter quiet; western extra 23c. Cheese firm; 8 7-8@9c. Eggs fairly active and firm; western 17@17 1-4c. Turpentine easy; 28 1-2@29c. Rosin slow; strained to good $1.22 1-2@1.27 1-2. Tallow quiet; 4 5-16@4 3-8c. Petroleum dull; crude $4.90@5.40; refined $5.95@6.00. Freights quiet; grain to Liverpool 2 3-4d.

CHANGE of LIFE whether in early girlhood or later on in adult years of the gentler sex is considered a dangerous and momentous period. Passed safely it means everything which is bright and beautiful, otherwise it may mean perpetual ailing, intense suffering, perhaps Death; now and then an Insane Asylum. It was after many years successful experience as a practising physician and constant study of the subject that I put up in popular form to be sold through the druggists, my remedy known as and Cleansing Wash for the cure of all Female Complaints, no mattter from what cause. Without charge I answer all letters from those who wish advice on this most important subject; and furthermore I send two bottles free of Dr. Marchisi's Uterine Catholicon in this way any lady may assure herself of its great curative qualities before going to the expense of buying from the drug store.

Change of Life.

UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 10, 1876.

Dr. J. B. Marchisi: Dear Sir—Those ladies undergoing the "Change of Life" cannot give too much praise to your Catholicon, as it is just the medicine that those ladies should take. No doubt but what thousands of ladies have been relieved and cured besides myself. Several have come under my observation. Yours Truly,

MRS. SARAH MILSTED.

Brings Her Safely Through Change of Life.

SCRANTON, PA., Feb. 2, 1891.

Dr. Marchisi: Dear Sir—Ten years ago I saw your advertisement in one of our papers, and learned that I could be cured, so I procured one bottle of your Catholicon. In one week I was so much improved that I continued taking it, and it brought me safely through the "change of life" without an ache or pain of any kind. I have been buying and recommending it for the past ten years. Yours, etc.

HELD UP A TRAIN.

Dynamite Again Brought Into Use.

Fresno, Cal., Aug. 4.—News was received here last night that a band of masked robbers had held up the southbound passenger train near Collis and the express car was broken open and robbed.

The robbers compelled the engineer and fireman to leave their places and then went to the express car and asked the messenger to open the door.

The messenger refused and the robbers commenced firing dynamite bombs at the door, finally breaking it in. They then broke open the safe and took all the money there was in it. The amount secured is not known.

The messenger had several ribs broken by the explosion of the bombs and the engine was badly disabled. The robbers then escaped.

Coughs and colds kept off by taking Simmons Liver Regulator for the system.

Holding pillows in her teeth while she drew on the pillow slips caused a chambermaid in a New York hotel to lose all her lower teeth. She had to change 40 or 50 beds a day, and this performance for a period of 11 years so loosened her lower teeth that they dropped out.

Do not be deceived by the misrepresentation of competitors, but before purchasing come in and examine into the many superior points of the upright Kranich & Bach piano.

NEUHAUSEL BROS.

MUST SELL.

20 ACRES on DETROIT AVENUE, one mile southwest of the Insane Asylum, in River Tract 16, running from the turnpike to canal. If sold within a week will take $2,000—about half its value.

Also three lots—7, 8 and 9—Harmon's subdivision, Wisconsin street, for $1,000. These offers will not hold after August 12.

BAKER, SMITH & BAKER.

Every one knows that washed lace is improved by being dyed in cold coffee, but perhaps blondes are not aware that if it be dipped in tea it will become a color more likely to suit them. At any rate, lace dyed in tea is a nice change and keeps fresh longer.

The hardest known wood is cocus wood; it turns the edge of any ax, however well tempered.

GAVE BIRTH TO TRIPLETS.

New Philadelphia, O., Aug. 4.—Mrs. Dr. T. J. W. Richards, of this city, gave birth to three well-developed children—two boys and one girl—yesterday afternoon. One of the boys only lived a few hours, but the other two children are quite lively and healthy looking.

More buildings and other improvements are in progress in Fair Ground addition, near the new Dorr street station, than in the same extent of territory in any part of the city. This can be accounted for by the low price of lots and the prospect of increased manufactories locating in that locality. Detwiler & Co. are the agents for this property.

Every hour adds thousands of dollars' worth to our stock.

NEUHAUSEL BROS.

A Havana, Cuba, dispatch says: "The continuous rains all over the island have had the effect of cutting down the sugar crop to 900,000 tons, which is 100,000 tons less than the January 1 estimate. Other damage by the rains was great."

It has always been generally believed that snow keeps the ground warm, but no very accurate data on the subject has hitherto been forthcoming. Accordingly it is interesting to learn, from observations recently made at Katherinenburg, that at a depth of 14 inches the soil, when covered with two feet of snow, was 10 degrees warmer than at the surface.

The Yost Manufacturing company are very much pleased with their location in Fair Ground addition, at the corner of the Lake Shore railroad and Dorr street, particularly as a number of other parties interested in manufactories contemplate locating in this location.

TYPES OF "GOOD CHAP."

His Name is Legion and He Might be Worse

Linkman writes in London Truth as follows: I entertain an intuitive dislike for almost every member of the species "good chap." Popularity is generally either the reward of folly or the result of duplicity, whilst a hearty, confident manner more often indicates a good digestion than it does a good disposition. Experience and intelligent observation have taught me to appreciate the unobtrusive merits of the unpopular man. The latter is occasionally disinterested, whilst the popular man generally possesses only—popular vices.

The type of "good chaps" is very extensive, and it is chiefly through the medium of inflection and accentuation that we are enabled to discriminate between the innumerable varieties of the species.

Thus the "good chap"—with affectionate and prolonged emphasis on the "good"—either has money or expectations, gives dinners to the "right sort" of people, and is commendably conventional.

The "go-od chap"—with a depreciatory lv and without inflection—denotes the indifferent character who is within measurable distance of degenerating into a "shocking bad lot."

The "good chap"—with a deprecatory fidently—is an arrant snob, whom, however, he being popular amongst the elect, it behooves you to join in praising.

The "go-od chap"—with a deprecatory smile—implies that you can personally afford to overlook his flagrant offensiveness, notwithstanding that others consider him utterly intolerable.

The "good chap"—decisively—is rapidly rising in the world's estimation.

The "real good chap" is a personage of assured position and prosperity. Nothing short of eccentricity in politics could possibly modify his title to popularity.

The "real good chap" can be relied upon for a small loan on an emergency.

The "no better chap" is too big an ass to be anybody's enemy but his own. He is a spendthrift and a dipsomaniac, and should he live long enough, he will most probably become a "d—d fool."

The "devilish good chap" is absolutely reliable in any transaction whatever where every law of principle and mortality is to be violated.

The "rattling good chap"—drinks like a fish, lives on his friends and has as little principle as he has capital.

Rubies.

IN our last importation of Rubies we are showing several rare gems. They each possess the merit of being known to the connoisseurs of Europe and are classed as "Extra."

Emeralds.

WE have been equally successful in obtaining some of the choicest Emeralds that were shown in the European markets this year. Our collection of Emeralds is now superior to any that we have ever exhibited.

Fancy Colored Diamonds.

TO meet the demand for Colored Diamonds we have collected with great care and have now on exhibition, possibly the finest assortment in America of these much sought for stones. Each stone is unique and cannot be duplicated.

WHY PAY FULL PRICE FOR YOUR BOY'S SUIT

In a few weeks time you will be ready to buy your boy a new suit for school wear, and will then regret not having taken advantage of our

ONE QUARTER OFF SALE!

ON ALL

BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S SUITS!

The time is short now for those who need clothing, to buy it at "stock-taking" prices. The boom is on and but little time will elapse before we close this sale. Hundreds have come to our store during the past week and have gone away fitted in a "Bargain Suit," more willing than ever to testify to the merits of our goods, and knowing that upright dealing, truthful statements and cold facts have carried the day.

As we told you last week, our entire stock of Boys' and Children's Suits go at these reduced prices and when you remember it is no bankrupt stock—but the

HANDSOMEST STOCK OF BOYS' CLOTHING!

In the city, that is offered for your selection you only stand in your own light by not calling and looking at the rare bargains we are prepared to show you.

Don't Forget That Seventy-Five Cents Will Buy Just as Much This Week as One Dollar Will Buy a Week Later. Look at This Scale of "Reduced Prices."

FORMER PRICE. . .	$3 00 FOR	$4 00 FOR	$5 00 FOR	$7 00 FOR	$8 00 FOR	$10 00 FOR	$12 00 FOR
REDUCED PRICE. .	$2 25	$3 00	$3 75	$5 25	$6 00	$7 50	$9 00

REMEMBER—Every garment, every article will remain marked just as they are and have been, and when a sale is made a reduction of 25 per cent will be made at the office.
